

The Right House... The Right Financing

With this—the October House-of-the-Month—we commence our second year of presenting these suggestions designed to help you select the right house for your needs. You and your contractor are invited to make full use of the working drawings for any of the houses offered.

As building time draws near you will want to consider financing arrangements. The right plan should insure debt-free ownership in a reasonable time. Any of our officers will welcome the opportunity to answer your questions.

Phone or write for colored sketch of the Architect's rendering of this house. See the complete 1/4" scale blueprints on display in our lobby.

Ranch Type Home Featured In October House-of-Month

The ranch type home, which is meeting with increasing favor throughout the nation, provides the inspiration for the current Warren National Bank House-of-the-Month. It's a long, one-story, painted brick dwelling, measuring seventy feet overall, that is intended to be placed on a lot so that its width of twenty-six feet faces the street. All outside walls are of 8" solid masonry while wide but shingles are used in the roofing.

An attractive front porch adjoining the garage opens into a 12' x 24' living room. Centrally located in the long inner wall is the wood burning fireplace. Directly opposite, the wall containing three full length windows flanked by two French doors provides an unobstructed view of the paved terrace with its bordering brick wall.

The 11' x 14' master bedroom in the rear has three exposures with a total of ten windows, eight of which form a light and airy corner. Also included is a private bath with tub and two separate and individual closets. Bedroom No. 2 has eight windows forming a corner and twin closets whereas the third bedroom contains four windows with a regulation size closet.

The extra bathroom is equipped with a shower stall, while an especially large linen closet is conveniently placed in the hall. The kitchen, adjoining the dining area in the living quarters is extremely practical and spacious enough to include another small space for dining. A bank of three windows above the working area overlooks the side garden which might very well be used as a playground for the children.

The service entrance is through the large utility room which houses the heating and laundry equipment, a bench and serviceable cases. For those who desire a partial basement, there is an alternate plan shown in the working drawings. This provides for a stairway to occupy part of the utility space while the remaining floor space is utilized to increase the size of the kitchen.

The 10' 4" x 20' garage has overhead doors and is large enough to permit ample storage for tools, garden furniture, etc.

Complete blueprints with alterations are now on display in the lobby of the Warren National Bank. Colored sketches of the architect's rendering together with floor plan are available to prospective home builders. For those who prefer other styles of architecture, similar material may be seen for many former Houses-of-the-Month.

New Army Enlistment Policy Is Explained By Recruiter

"Many of the new army enlistment policies announced Thursday by the War Department break precedent in the Army," Captain Grunzweig, commanding officer of the Warren Recruiting area, told the Warren Times-Mirror today as he predicted that the new directives will bring a decided increase in the enlistments.

For the first time, 17-year-olds may enlist for active duty, with their parents' consent.

Men over 34 may be enlisted if they have previous service.

Enlistments may now be for one year, 18 months, two or three years. Men enlisting for one year must have already had six months of service. Those enlisting for less than three years will have no choice of service or theatre.

Privates who have served satisfactorily six months will be promoted to privates first class.

Men honorably discharged on or after May 12, 1945, and before November 1, 1945 will be enlisted in the grade held at the time of discharge, provided the enlistment is prior to November 21, 1945. Heretofore, the deadline was Oct. 20. Men who have served six months, were honorably discharged as privates and enlisted before Nov. 21 may be enlisted as privates first-class.

Re-enlistment pay is now $50 a year for each year of service for all grades.

Three-year enlistees may request duty in Europe, Pacific, China, Caribbean or Alaska theatre.

All men enlisting will be entitled to family allowances in provisions of the "G. I. Bill of Rights".

Special credit pay previously drawn in service (i. e. flight pay, paratrooper's pay, etc.) will be continued.

King Rode Here

The spot above in England is remembered as place to which King Henry V returned after victory over French in Battle of Agincourt in 1415. So events of that occasion are reviewed in costumes and with all the trappings at annual Black Heath Pageant. In scene above, the latest "Henry V" arrives, wearing crown and royal robes, but with a bicycle serving for the charger of victorious monarch.

In the fiscal year ending March 31, 1944, British aircraft industry produced 27,273 planes of all types.

"Private" Air Force Collected Nazi Planes for Study by AAF

Colonel Watson found "Alles Kaputt," giant German four-engine transport, in Norway. He flew it to Cherbourg, where it was placed aboard a British aircraft carrier for shipment to the United States. Contrast the clumsy appearance of the craft with the trim lines of the B-29 Superfort.

By DAVID A. STEIN
NEA Staff Correspondent
Freeman Field, Ind.

Uncle Sam gladly arranged for a British carrier, six Liberty ships and 96 freight cars to bring Col. Harold E. Watson's war souvenirs to the United States.

To collect his mementoes, Colonel Watson not only developed his own private air force, but recruited a Nazi Luftwaffe—under American management—as well. Most of his souvenirs are German aircraft in flyable condition.

They were gathered while fighting was still in progress, by as strange a collection of little-publicized dare-devils as ever donned uniforms. Colonel Watson's air force was tiny, consisting of 20 carefully selected American technical experts and 20 Luftwaffe pilots and mechanics.

The Americans worked as Air Technical Intelligence teams. Usually a team of four experts would work together, borrowing a jeep and a GI sergeant who knew how to forage food and set up camp for the night in an open field. The men carried their own bedding and rations, and seldom completed a mission in less than a week or ten days.

The Luftwaffe recruits served a special function. They not only supplied technical information, but serviced German planes and tested them so that American fliers could be sure no sabotage had been attempted.

Colonel Watson's air force was organized shortly after American landings were made in Africa. The men followed the fronts, arriving at captured airports before the smoke of battle had cleared.

Frequently under fire, the ATIs had to be experts with obtained on such German craft as weapons, and needed an amazingly varied background of training and talents. They had to recognize the importance of any new gadget they might find in a wrecked Nazi plane. They had to speak French and German well enough to question prisoners and find their way around on back roads. Most of them were pilots, engineers, mechanics, jeep and truck drivers.

They collected, in addition to aircraft in flying condition, all of the armament, turrets, engines, instruments, photographic equipment, rescue equipment, radar, and other technical devices in which the AAF had expressed an interest. These were rushed to Wright Field, where experts analyzed them and learned Luftwaffe secrets.

While Colonel Watson concentrated on aircraft, a staff of 300 experts gathered air accessories at three centers, in Mersberg, Stuttgart, and Nuremberg. Britain's RAF and the AAF cooperated in this "air technical liaison." British data on German aeronautical design, gained in a study of planes shot down during the Battle of Britain, was pooled with American knowledge.

Colonel Watson's biggest haul was made in Denmark, just before V-E Day. At airfields there, and later in Norway, many German planes were found intact. The salvaged craft were flown to Cherbourg, and a British carrier delivered them to Newark, N. J.

Now the strange collection of German planes has been assembled in hangars at Freeman Field near Seymour, Ind. Here they are taken apart, re-assembled, studied, and analyzed.

Performance data has been obtained on such German craft as the jet-propelled Messerschmitt "262," a fast-climbing, twin-motored fighter. Here, too, experts are studying the rocket-type Messerschmitt "163-B" single seat interceptor, which could climb to 30,000 feet in a little over two minutes—but could stay in the air only 12 minutes.

One of the strangest-looking transports ever to fly is "Alles Kaputt," the Junkers "290," intended as the German answer to the B-29. Air Technical Service Command experts, noting its clumsy appearance and poor performance have concluded that the Germans simply didn't know how to build four-motored bombers.

One of the strangest experimental planes was the Viper, a rocket-propelled interceptor launched with a pilot from a vertical ramp. Its life in the air was just 80 seconds, and then it simply disintegrated. Completely expendable, the craft was made of wood and carried 24 rocket projectiles to be launched against Allied bomber formations once the plane was in the air. The pilot was ejected and dropped by parachute. The tail fell off to drop the expensive rocket unit by parachute.

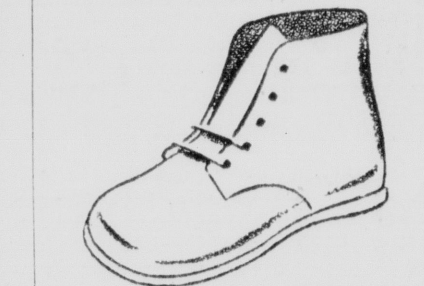

Freeman Field has been set up as experimental headquarters, where Air Technical Service Command experts will tear apart both German and Jap planes to learn the secrets of their performance. In addition, the field will maintain a museum of World War II Allied aircraft.

Idle Miners Facing Fines of Dollar Day

have not announced laying off workers.

The 210,000 idle miners, more than half the soft coal diggers in the U. S., were scattered over six states—West Virginia, Pennsylvania, Kentucky, Ohio, Tennessee and Indiana. Estimate of the men idle was based on reports from the Solid Fuels Administration, the United Mine Workers and the various coal operators' associations. Steel spokesmen viewed the situation as becoming increasingly serious.

Carnegie-Illinois said it had enough coal left for only three days capacity production but that "this supply will be stretched as far as possible by lowering the operating rate."

County Captains Show Great Enthusiasm For Loan Drive

A group of enthusiastic County Bond Leaders and Captains met Tuesday night to discuss plans for the 8th Victory Loan Campaign. County workers have always turned in an enviable record for bond sales, and judging from the spirit shown at the meeting they will excel again in this final drive to "Win the Peace."

Sales requirements and special features available for use in the county were discussed by N. D. Paterson and A. L. Rasmussen. M. H. Deardorff stressed the importance of all team captains starting now to prepare their workers for a successful drive. The campaign starts October 26th, less than two weeks, the period is short and every person is called upon to do his share.

For the 8th Victory Loan Campaign the County has been divided into six districts with quotas, leaders and captains as follows:
District 1—$33,600. Leader: Lyle R. Briggs; Asst. leader, Sarah E. Atkin; Captain, Mrs. George B. King.
District 2—$84,000. Leader: H. M.

District 3—$31,500. Leader: Robert Baldwin. Captains: Mrs. Herman Moll, Mrs. Hubert Korman, Mrs. Allan Baker, Mrs. Frank Dodd, Miss Doris Engstrom.
District 4—$10,500. Leader: A. W. Goal. Captain, Mrs. C. A. Schneider.
District 5—$42,000. Leader: C. R. McNeal. Asst. leader, P. J. Finerty and Alice Rickenberg. Captain, Miss Effie Munro. Block leader head, Mrs. Grace Fitzgerald.
District 6—$8,400. Leader: R. E. Leonard. Asst. leaders, C. R. Morrison, J. P. Pascarella. Captains, Mrs. E. L. Van Sickle, Miss Alice Holmes.
Stanley Laurence is chairman of the Farm teams, assisted by acting captains Merle Dodd, Mr. and Mrs. Carl Peterson, Mrs. Lloyd Hedges, Arnell Carter, William Olney, John Moravsek, Leon Whiteley, and Alfred Alkin.

Wilburine Plot Sold for $1150

WILBURINE . . . bVd. . . One of the most important parcels of land disposed of at the commissioners' sale at the court house at ten o'clock this morning was the tract on Lexington avenue known as the Wilburine property.

The plot, which comprises two blocks, with 63 lots already laid out, and considered one of the most desirable factory sites in the east side, was bid in by Albert Ristau, owner of the Reliable Furniture store.

The land has been under consideration by public spirited citizens as a fine location for the proposed memorial stadium and recreation center.
Mr. Ristau stated to the Times-Mirror that he purchased the plot for speculation.

less the coal supply is increased soon at least 25,000 of the company's 36,000 employees in the Chicago and Gary, Ind., districts will be laid off. Most of the other steel mills reported similar conditions.

The Magazine Iron Age estimated the steel industry would lose more than 300,000 tons of steel ingots this week because of the enforced shutdowns. It said steel consumers received about 145,000 tons less last week than they would have under normal conditions.

More than 400 major operations and 92,000 miners are idle in West Virginia in what Jesse V. Sullivan, secretary of the West Virginia Coal Association termed "the most costly strike ever waged in West Virginia." He said the stoppage is costing the public and persons affected "the princely sum of $32,500,000 weekly."

Miners idle in other states included 63,493 in Pennsylvania; 26,000 in Kentucky; 9,195 in Ohio; 8,600 in Tennessee; and 6,935 in Indiana.

There appeared no indications of an immediate ending of the 17-day old strike of AFL Longshoremen at New York harbor as strife within the union flared, with CIO Unionists involved.
Police estimated that 5,000 to 7,000 of more than 35,000 striking longshoremen came back to work yesterday, at the behest of AFL Longshoremen President Joseph P. Ryan.

Something new in strike procedure, sitdown picketing, was added to the prolonged strike of movie workers in Hollywood yesterday as AFL union officials and film producers sought to end the jurisdictional dispute. Sheriff's officers and police broke up the group of more than 300 pickets who sat in front of the entrance of Warner Brothers studio. Two persons were injured and three pickets were arrested in the disturbance.

year, the committee said, the Army Air Corps had 62,045 planes, with plans to dispose of 44,222 while acquiring 1,238 new ships.

To start the fiscal year, the army had a total of $47,129,695, 501 available to spend. The budget bureau and the president recommended cancellation of $28,692,772,000. The committee said it had by $2,210,318,564, a practice it followed generally in other budget and presidential recommendations.

The committee called for more rapid demobilization of army and navy personnel, urging both services to "immediately adopt the policy of releasing officers or enlisted personnel as and when the become surplus."

The committee said it did not believe the present point discharge systems would achieve the projected reductions in strength of schedule. It suggested adjusting the systems immediately "to the demobilization programs" and said the revision should be "promptly publicized in order that the individual and his family may know in advance what to expect and be able to plan accordingly."

The committee served notice that it hasn't finished slashing appropriations, asserting that "large rescissions are practicable" and will be forthcoming as soon as more definite figures on obligations and needs of the various agencies are available.

The biggest cut in the executive agencies' funds was $2,339,551,000 from the lend lease appropriation. It leaves the program now being liquidated, with cash and contractual availability of $1,879,182,000.

HIGH SCHOOL HOODLUMS

(Jamestown Post-Journal)

Arousing pep and enthusiasm for football games and celebrating victories on the gridiron have always been subjects viewed with sympathetic understanding by authorities and the public. Few have such short memories that they fail to recall their own ventures into such events.

But there is a wide difference between football enthusiasm and hoodlumism which closely resembles rioting. When a lawless element takes hold or enters into such celebrations they cease to be fun and become threats to the lives and safety of the public and participants.

Thus there can be no excusing the incidents in connection with the Jamestown-Warren football game both before and after the Friday game. Punishment must be meted out, and severely meted out, to those guilty of such incidents as may lead to the loss of an eye for a young girl and the vandalism resulting in the destruction of property.

There is no evidence that responsible student leaders in either high school took any part in this phase of the celebration. Neither is it known to us how much they did to try to curb the other element. The opportunity may not have been theirs, but we do know that occasionally a real leader among the youngsters can do more to stop such hoodlums than a dozen adults.

There can be no question but that the real fault for such rioting can be traced back to the homes of those who participated. When proper sportsmanship and respect for the property and safety of others is taught by example and training in the home, the young people reflect this training in their conduct even under the stress of mobs. This is a matter for deep thought by all parents, a searching of their own consciences.

All the remorse of those who took part in these incidents cannot restore the sight in the eye of the unfortunate girl from Pennsylvania, but the taking of inventory by all parents can prevent a recurrence of any such rioting in the future.

Last week's events are a blot on the records of both Warren and Jamestown High Schools. We know that undoubtedly many of those who participated may not be enrolled students in either school, but some were and they have brought shame on their schools. They should be so regarded by other students.

The parents and authorities have a responsibility to see that this may never happen again for we are supposedly a civilized community in a civilized nation. Let's act like civilized people.

THE END OF A TURNCOAT

The trial of Pierre Laval may have been a travesty on the normal procedure of French justice. But can anyone believe that the crime of Laval was of a nature to demand or deserve that justice? The record of his misdeeds is written for all the world to see in the history of the war and, more vividly, in the lives and deaths of Frenchmen who suffered through his treachery.

Laval's trial was, as Tom Wolf recently wrote from Paris, the "revolution by law" which General de Gaulle promised. It was, in the light of Laval's treachery, a fair and moderate trial, for all the emotion which his goading shrewdness called forth.

It cannot be said of Laval, as it was of Petain, that France herself was on trial. Petain was a confused, bigoted, reactionary and politically stupid old man. His mistakes reflected much of the mistaken peacetime thinking of his countrymen.

But Laval was an ambitious jackal, loyal to no one but himself, apparently despised as heartily by the Nazis whom he fawned upon as by the people whom he betrayed. His execution is a triumph of justice, no matter how irregularly that sentence may have been reached.

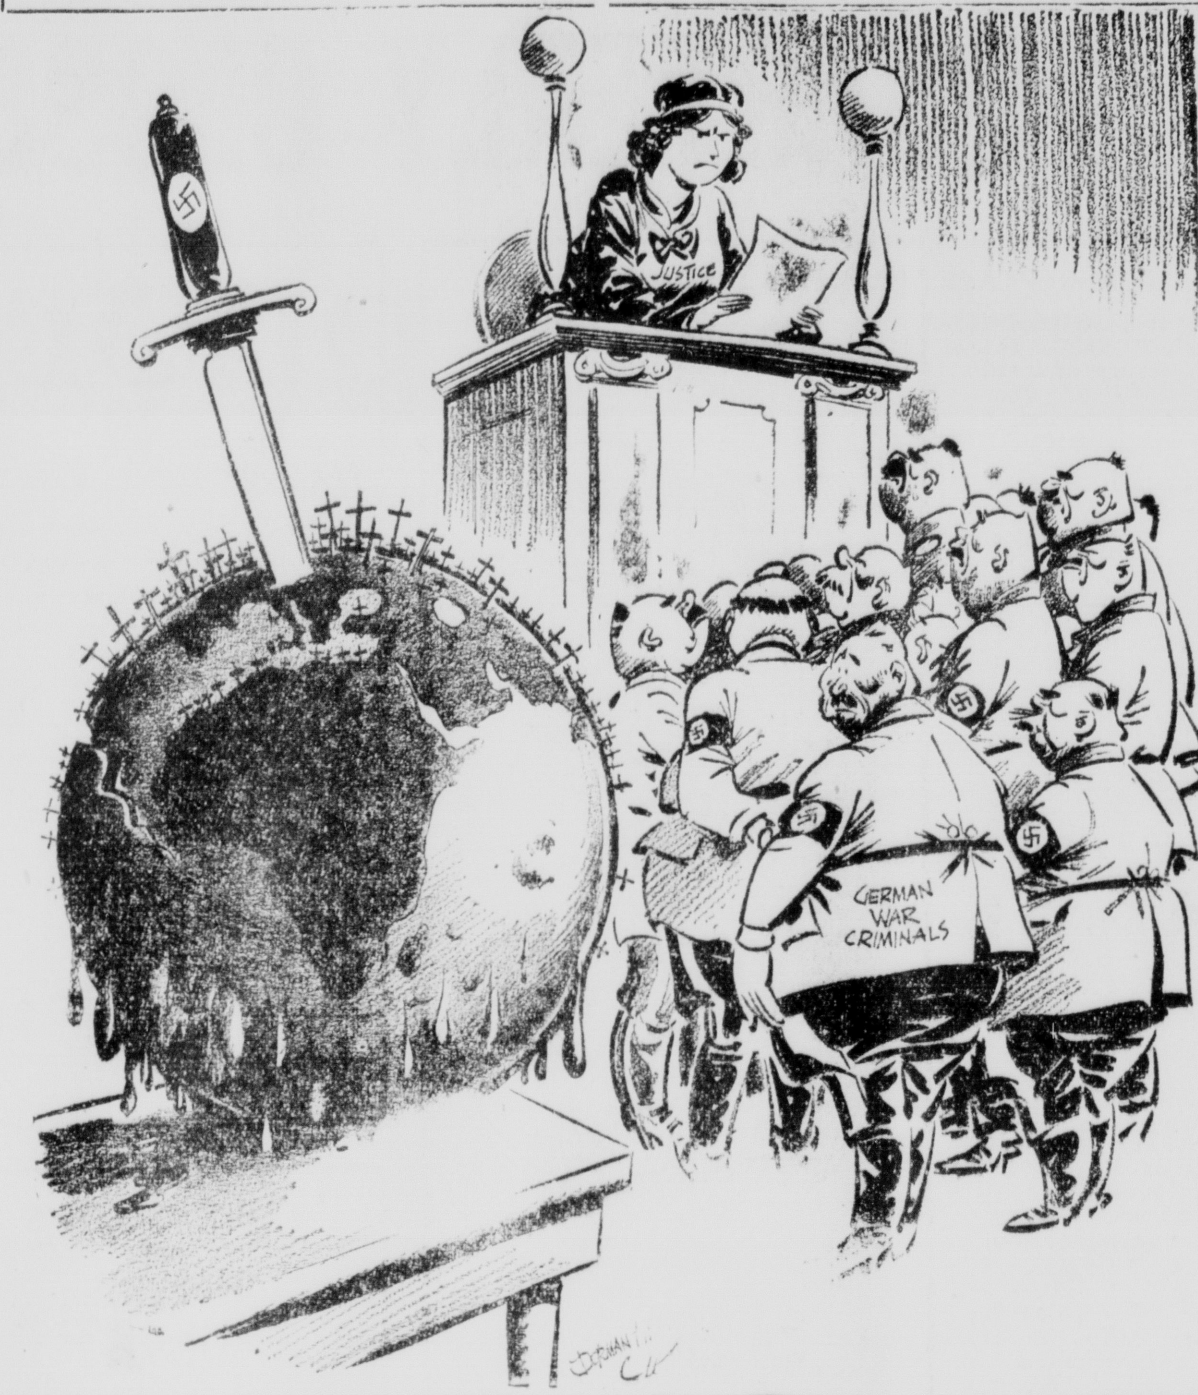

Indonesian references to "non-violence," similar to those which have accompanied India's outbursts in her long search for liberation from western domination, serve to remind that the present situation in Java is not some new post-war manifestation, but rather a continuation of a movement which has become indigenous to southeast Asia.

WASHINGTON DAYBOOK

by Jack Stinnell

WASHINGTON—In discussions of the world control of atomic bombs, it is surprising that the opinions of the scientists who still are working on the bombs are being given so little attention.

Rep. Walter H. Judd (R-Minn.) has laid one report from a group of these scientists before his colleagues, but few so far have inquired of any of the conclusions of the laboratory men into their public arguments.

EXCEPT for occasional outbursts by some Congressmen and other public officials who declare we should or shouldn't keep the bomb as a U. S.-British secret, Congress seems willing to wait until the President lays the problem squarely before it.

Even then, there probably will be some buck-passing between the legislative and executive branches.

"The scientists who created the atomic bomb," says Rep. Judd, "have spent sleepless nights on the question of what to do with their brain child."

And the scientists themselves reiterate this, pointing out that because of the secrecy surrounding its development they have been spending sleepless nights a good deal longer than those who only learned of its horrible force when the first bomb was dropped over Hiroshima.

THE scientists (who have elected to remain anonymous in making their report) set forth their conclusions with direct laboratory logic. They state simply that the United States has four alternatives in control of the atomic bomb and then proceed to show what is wrong with each one.

(1) Disregard the atomic bomb altogether in our formation of foreign policy.

Arguments for this are simply that the atomic bombs will not in the long run change the basic nature of war or conquest, and that eventually science will develop an adequate defense against them.

To this latter, the scientists say unequivocally they can "offer no hope of a specific defense against the atomic bomb." They point out also that neither moral sanctions nor fear of retaliation has ever kept a power from using any weapon on its march of conquest. (The latter did prevent use of gas in the late war, but for reasons that wouldn't apply to the atomic bomb.)

(2) Keep our secret; control raw materials and build bigger and better bombs.

TO THIS, the scientists say simply that any nation can find the secret for itself in two to five years; that the raw materials (especially uranium) are scattered all over the world; and that after a minimum number of bombs are constructed, bigger and better ones are just so much useless surplus.

(3) Conquer the world before anybody else can develop the bombs. This is against everything that the United States has fought and bled for and may be dismissed as unthinkable.

(4) Turn atomic power over to international control. The scientists recognize the difficulties that in so doing the United States will have to sacrifice some of its national sovereignty. But those are the possibilities in a nutshell. Take your pick, the scientists say.

Chapter 6

EVE was coming up the path as

Anne reached the porch. "Hello, sugar!" she called and Anne waited for Eve to join her. "Goodness, you look friendless! What's wrong,

cookie?"

"I haven't seen Wayne all day!"

Anne stated bluntly, tears quite hot and close behind her eyes.

Eve's arm went around her. "So what? He'll be along tonight."

"I'm not so sure. There's a big party at his club. He'll probably go there." Her thoughts flew, with a sickening little lurch, to the beautiful, self-assured Carol King and her calm acceptance of the fact that Wayne would be at that party.

They had come into the hallway

now and Eve pounced on the stack of mail waiting on the table. With hands that trembled she went through it. Then she gave a wild shriek of delight.

"Anne! It's here! A letter from Garret!"

"Oh, darling, I'm so glad!"

And for the moment Anne forgot her disappointment in observing the utter happiness on Eve's face.

Anne set the table and made sandwiches and a salad. When the coffee had perked she filled a blue plate with doughnuts and called

Eve to the meal.

"Oh, Anne, darling, I'm sorry. I didn't sleep at all!"

Anne laughed. "You were not even in this world, Eve! And I didn't mind at all. We're dining lightly tonight—I hope that's all right with you."

"Bread and water would taste

like the nectar of the Gods to me

tonight, Anne." Eve cried, her eyes shining. "Oh, darling, Garret's well and as happy as it's possible to be—and he still loves me!"

"That's marvelous, Eve. But try to eat a little won't you?"

LATER, when the dishes were washed and the place in order,

Anne left Eve to another perusal of her precious letter and went down once more to the garden.

Rags at her heels.

The garden had burst into full bloom overnight. The forsythia and daffodils had been joined by flowering japonica. A rose tree had burst its buds in an array of blushing blossoms, while the old apple tree stood like a great bouquet in its corner of the garden.

Anne sighed audibly and sank down on the circular seat that ran around the apple tree. A shower of pink blossoms waited down like sifted rosy snowflakes into her lap. A feeling of deep depression came over her. Suddenly she was bitterly homesick. She wanted more than anything to be back at the farm with her own people.

Rags nestled on the seat beside her, as if sensing her loneliness.

He held her closer. "That's why

I didn't argue too much with Aunt

Edna," he explained. "I knew there'd be tonight for us. You didn't think I'd really go to the club—now did you, little darling?"

"You told that girl—Carol King

—that you might see her."

"When you wouldn't go with me

I scratched that shindig off my list!" he vowed. Later he asked,

"Want to go to a movie or something?"

Anne shook her head. There could be nothing in the make-believe world of the movies as fasci-inating as this reality. "I'd like to stay right here. Mind?"

"Mind? Hey—what kind of a guy do you think I am?" He sighed in deep contentment. "Gosh, this one swell night!"

THEY sat there for a long time, locked in each other's arms.

The garden was quiet and fragrant all about them. The stars and the chaste pale young moon provided a light for their love.

Suddenly he gripped her arms hard and turned her about to face

him. "Look, Anne—what's the use

Health Preserves Youth and Looks
By MULLEN DRUG CO.
The next best thing to remaining young, which is impossible, is to preserve that youthful appearance which is attractive always. Good health does this. The slim figure, the upright carriage, the elastic step, the good color and bright eye are as possible to middle age as to brisk youth. They can be retained far into the years of age, but only at a price—the price of healthful vigor. Your doctor can help—by giving you the sound practical advice of a scientific man. Most doctors remain youthful in appearance throughout long and strenuous lives. Their secret can be yours. Judicious medication may be an aid. Procure it from your good druggist at your doctor's advice.

Akeley Man Is Eyewitness

The following news release from aboard the USS Nicholas will be read with interest by family and friends of the service man named therein:

Norman E. Bush, metallsmith third class, of Akeley, witnessed the fall of Japan's once powerful empire. As the USS Missouri approached the Japanese homeland, the Nicholas, leading destroyer of the screen, detected the approach of the vessel bringing emissaries to surrender Japan's fleet. The Nicholas closed the two-stacked Jap destroyer, and with all guns bearing on the target, lowered a whaleboat and removed emissaries, pilots, and interpreters for transfer to Admiral Halsey's flagship. Fifty miles from Tokyo, Bush witnessed the end of the greatest naval war of all time. He saw action in the Marshalls, New Guinea, Carolines, Molukkas, Philippines, Borneo, the Ryukyus, and ended his tour of duty with 56 days off the coast of Japan.

Bush enlisted in May, 1943, received training at Sampson, N. Y., and reported on board the Nicholas in February, 1944.

Price Panel Will Assist

The local war price and rationing board has asked the Times-Mirror to publish for convenience of its readers the following self-explanatory communication:

Revised Maximum Price Regulation No. 165 requires that all types of services be filed at the Local War Price and Rationing Board. This regulation's purpose is to limit to the March 1942 level the prices of services which it covers.

Among the services covered in this regulation are: Rental or repair of bicycles; cleaning of buildings, houses or offices; repair, washing, etc., of carpets, rugs; fur storage and cleaning; repairing; janitorial contract services; rental and repair of radios; garbage disposal; shoe repair; automotive repair.

These and many others are covered by this regulation. If you offer any service to the public, please call the price panel of the war price and rationing board, and ask if you are required to file your ceiling prices. We will arrange to have you do so.

Poor Digestion? Headachy? Sour or Upset? Tired-Listless?

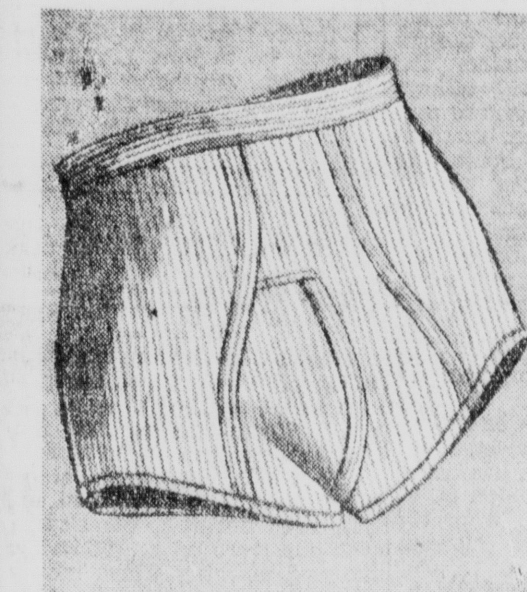

Do you feel headachy and upset due to poorly digested food? To feel cheerful and happy again your food must be digested properly. Each day, Nature must produce about two pints of a vital digestive juice to help digest your food. If Nature fails, your food may remain undigested—leaving you headachy and irritable. Therefore, you must increase the flow of this digestive juice. Carter's Little Liver Pills increase this flow quickly—often in as little as 30 minutes. And, you're on the road to feeling better. Don't depend on artificial aids to counteract indigestion—when Carter's Little Liver Pills aid digestion after Nature's own order. Take Carter's Little Liver Pills as directed. Get them at any drugstore. Only 25c.

Glimpse of China Provided in Paper For Blue Stockings

On Tuesday, Blue Stocking Club members were entertained at the home of Miss Kate Winger, with Mrs. Grace Tarbox as assisting hostess. Mrs. Robert Winger, president, conducted the business session and read an article from the Pennsylvania Clubwomen Magazine telling of the part taken by prominent clubwomen as consultants at the San Francisco Conference.

The program for the afternoon was given by Miss Mabel Abbott, her subject being "Home Life in China". The plan and type of home furnishings were first described as being the same for large and small houses. She then indicated that early marriage is not encouraged for girls, a small girl being raised in the home of her prospective husband, under the supervision of the boy's mother, and care for by a nurse who follows right through her life, and is second in importance to her mother-in-law. In the Chinese home, the speaker pointed out, the woman is called the "inside person" and is always important through her power in the home. Of recent years, contact with the west, speeded up by war migration and insecurity, has changed details of the routine home life in that country. Miss Abbott brought out many interesting facts, showing that Chinese ways may be different but are never ridiculous.

Tea was served by the hostesses, Mrs. Leon Johnson and Mrs. H. C. Warren presiding at a pretty table centered with fall flowers and tapers.

The next meeting will be October 30, at the home of Mrs. Vance Weld, with Mrs. W. R. Carlin assisting.

Annual Missionary Meeting at Local Christian Alliance

The annual missionary convention will open this evening and continue through Sunday at the Christian and Missionary Alliance church, 705 Conewango avenue.

The worldwide work of the society will be presented by Mrs. H. E. Koenigswald, missionary to West China; Rev. Gustav Woerner, missionary to the Orient; and Rev. H. F. Meltzer, of Oakland, Calif.

At the opening service this evening, Rev. Woerner will be the speaker. He has been a missionary for more than 20 years, serving in South China from 1923 to 1933 when he was transferred to the Netherlands East Indies. Two years later he and Mrs. Woerner went to Malaya to do pioneer work. They were thus engaged when in 1942 the Japs made their advance upon Singapore through Malaya.

Leaving most of their personal belongings behind, they moved into Singapore a few days ahead of the Japs, from which port they took what was perhaps the last ship to make escape from Singapore. After spending 67 days on the water they arrived in New Orleans in 1942.

During the convention Rev. Mr. Woerner will be telling many of his strange and varied experiences, also show pictures of the work. Thursday evening Mrs. Koenigswald and Rev. Meltzer will be the speakers. Services will begin promptly at 7:45.

Cpl. Phyllis F. Ingalls, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Ingalls, 100 Orchard street, is a member of a contingent of Women's Army Corps veterans in the Southwest Pacific being returned to the United States under the demobilization plan. She has a total of 58 points, 17 more than the critical score of 41 required for members of the WAC. A veteran of a year of overseas service, Cpl. Ingalls has been an integral part of the headquarters staff of General George C. Kenney's Far East Air Forces in the Philippines. Her service in that theatre extended through the New Guinea and Philippine campaigns, for which she has been awarded three battle stars on the Asiatic-Pacific theatre ribbon, and the Philippines Liberation ribbon with one star.

Cpl. Ingalls had her basic training at Daytona Beach, Fla., then went to Camp Edwards, Mass., for nearly two years. While there she was awarded the Good Conduct Medal. Going to Fort Belvoir, Va., she was graduated last August after three months in engineering, drafting and photography, and has been with the engineers ever since. Arriving overseas, she was in Leyte for several months and more recently in Manila about six months. She has informed her family that she would leave Manila about October 2, would probably go to Fort Dix, N. J., and should arrive home in about a month. Graduate of Warren High School, she was employed at the New Process Company before enlisting in the Women's Army Auxiliary Corps, now the Women's Army Corps.

Weekend at Camp Sheffield Alumni For Kinzua Girls Married In South

Kinzua Girl Scouts spent a very enjoyable weekend at Camp Bird-sall Eddy, as the following report from Helen Quiggle and Shirley Bentley, scribes, would indicate:

We went Friday night and soon after we arrived, we had crackling fires burning. We slept very well and were up bright and early the next morning. Those who went were: Joyce Quiggle, Janet Quiggle, Varian Veley, Nancy Zerbe, Shirley Bentley, JoAnn Trego, Helen Quiggle, accompanied by Mrs. Miriam Schultz and our leader, Miss White.

Saturday we spent our time square dancing, hiking, working out of doors, and playing indoor games. Sunday we had our "Scouts' Own" around the breakfast table. We invited the parents to dinner on Sunday, and those present included: Mrs. Gifford Quiggle, Murray and Rose Quiggle, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Quiggle, and Mr. and Mrs. Richard Smith.

After enjoying a delicious chicken dinner early Sunday evening, we very reluctantly left, hoping to visit the camp again next spring.

We wish to thank Mrs. Correll for her cooperation in helping to make our weekend pleasant. We also wish to thank Mrs. Schultz and Miss White. We trust that the weekend was as enjoyable and profitable for them as we are sure it was for us.

Warren Players Rehearse Fourth Drama For Radio

The Warren Players are in rehearsal for the fourth of the series of radio dramas which are being presented over WJTN each Sunday afternoon at two o'clock. Next Sunday's play is an exceptionally clever melodrama, "Two Crooks and a Lady," by Eugene O'Neill.

Mrs. Simms Vane, the crippled old lady who outwits the crooks, is played by Meredith Cox, who was cast in the role when the play was presented very effectively in the Warren Players Studio Workshop a few years ago. The roles of the two crooks, Miller and Lucille, are played by Carl Johnson and Mary Schellhammer. Georgia Spinnery will be heard in the role of the companion and Giulio Fino and John Erickson as two police officers.

Sunday afternoon's production of "The Queens of France," by Thornton Wilder, was very well received. In the cast were Louis Crittall, Gloria Valone, Rachel Mahaffey, and Catherine Africa.

The Players are enjoying their venture in radio dramas and intend to do some experimenting with sound effects and music backgrounds which should add to the effectiveness of the productions. The response of interested players has been exceptional. But anyone is welcome at any audition. The fifth production, scheduled for Oct. 28th, will be cast Friday evening at 8:30 in the Warren Radio News Office, 438 Pennsylvania avenue, west.

An effort is being made to select as wide a variety of players possible, with contrasting roles. All four plays which have been used have been in marked contrast. "The Marriage Proposal," a farce by Anton Chekov, was the opening production. "The Riders to the Sea," a tragedy, by J. M. Synge, the second; "The Queens of France," a satirical comedy by Thornton Wilder, the third; and next Sunday a fast-moving melodrama, "Two Crooks and a Lady," will afford another contrast.

Sheffield, Oct. 17—Mrs. John Munson announces the marriage of her youngest daughter, Marian, to T/Sgt. Marvin Schmiden, USMC, son of Mr. and Mrs. Otto Schmiden. The ceremony took place October 6 in the Webb Presbyterian church in Morehead City, N. C., Rev. Axeloff officiating.

The bride was given in marriage by S/Sgt. John E. Heckt, USMC, of Bound Brook, N. J., and her only attendant was Miss Vivien Schmiden, sister of the groom. S/Sgt. Arthur L. Kindt, Jr., USMC of Amityville, Long Island, N. Y., was the groom's attendant.

The bride was attired in a tulle dress with brown accessories and carried a white testament with a corsage of white gladioli covering it. Her gift from the groom was a string of pearls, with earrings to match. The maid of honor wore an aqua dress with black accessories and corsage of yellow roses.

The wedding dinner was served at the Blue Ribbon Club. The bride is graduate of Sheffield High School, Class of 1943. The bride was employed by the Pennsylvania Bottle Company. The groom, also a graduate of Sheffield High School, Class of 1942, is now stationed at Cherry Point, N. C. They will make their home at 205 South 21st street, Morehead City, N. C.

Dairymen Urged To Prove Sires Properly
Expansion of the artificial breeding program has increased the demand for properly proved sires of real merit, says County Agent O. C. Tritt, as he urges dairymen to give daughters an opportunity to show their maximum inherited ability to produce.

Too often the herd sire fails to get full evaluation, because of treatment given the first daughters of that sire. The size, type and production of these daughters will be the measure of the breeding worth of the bull.

In many instances daughters of a promising sire were poorly grown, out bred to freshen too young, unprepared for freshening, and fed and managed in their first lactation period in a way that hinders their apparent ability for production.

Because of the demand for superior proved sires, he suggests that every well-bred dairy sire should be kept alive until proved by the size, type, and production of his daughters. Some superior proved sires have bred over 7,000.

Trio of Elks Given Life Memberships

Three members of Warren Lodge No. 223, B. P. O. Elks, who have been affiliated with the lodge for forty years were presented life memberships at a well-attended meeting Tuesday evening in the lodge hall. Those who were honored were T. J. McNamara, of Titusville, W. J. Phillips, and George L. Craft, of Warren.

The presentation was made during the regular lodge meeting by A. A. Albaugh, a past exalted ruler of the lodge, with appropriate remarks for each. Mr. Albaugh reviewed briefly the activities of the honored members in the lodge among other things recalling that Mr. McNamara was exalted ruler when the present commodious home was occupied.

Mr. McNamara carries number 229 on his membership card. He was proposed by the late M. K. Gleason March 21, 1905, elected in April of the same year and initiated April 18th. He was exalted ruler in 1912-14.

Mr. Phillips, was number 229. He was proposed by the late W. H. Gates April 14, 1905, elected April 18th.

Information On Withholding Taxes From Returned Vets

By JAMES MARLOW

Washington—(AP)—Here's a question which must be bothering returning veterans and their new bosses.

Suppose John Jones, released from the armed services, goes to work Monday—or any time between now and the end of the year.

Does his boss have to withhold taxes from his paycheck? Yes, if he's paid at a rate of income which would be taxable.

For example: An unmarried man without dependents would have tax taken out of his paycheck if he makes as much as $11 a week. Bosses have no choice about this. Under the law they must withhold a certain amount of tax out of every taxable paycheck.

This must be done even if it means that the government in 1946 must refund all the tax withheld from a person in 1945.

Here's an example: Under the law no one has to pay taxes if his 1945 income is under $500.

But here's Jones, an unmarried veteran without dependents. He takes a job Monday.

That job pays about $1,000 a year, or about $19.25 a week.

In the 11 weeks between Monday and Dec. 31 Jones will earn about $211. That will be his total income from civilian employment in 1945.

It might seem—since no one making under $500 in 1945 has to pay taxes—Jones should have no taxes withheld from total 1945 income of $211.

But it doesn't work that way. The government has supplied all employers with a tax table. They must regularly deduct from every employee's paycheck as much tax as the table calls for.

So the tax taken out of Jones' paycheck every week—that check is $19.25—will be about $1.80.

At the end of 11 weeks the boss will have taken out of Jones' weekly paycheck a total of about $19.80.

But Jones will get that money back. In 1946 he'll have to file a return with the government, showing he should not have been taxed at all. The government will give him back in 1946 the money taken from him in 1945.

The reason, as noted, is this: Because Jones made less than $500 in 1945 he shouldn't have been taxed. This may all seem like a lot of extra work for the government. And it is. But internal revenue people—who collect the taxes—figure this way: It's simpler to collect a tax regularly from paychecks according to the tax table—and then make a refund—than to lay down special rules and regulations to fit the different cases which bob up.

IRVINE

Irvine, Oct. 16—Mrs. Adams, nurse at the shop has moved from the Hulings rooms to Warren. She could not find a place here suitable and the Hulings family needed their rooms, sorry to have her leave here.

Mrs. Minnie Murray and daughter Marion Robertson expects soon to go to Warren for the winter. Mrs. Robertson is school nurse and during the winter it is not so pleasant to drive to and from here if we have a winter like last was.

Mrs. Gertrude Dalley returned home from the Warren Hospital Saturday where she underwent an operation. She is doing fine. We see in the hospital news this evening it stated she was from Tiona, but not.

Ross Walters and a party of friends returned Sunday morning from a hunting trip in the west. They came home with a good supply of pheasants and report a very enjoyable time.

Mrs. Clinton Johnson had a very enjoyable surprise some time ago when her brother Howard Murtough came for a visit with her and his sister Genevieve of Jamestown. They had not seen him in several years.

Merle Hulings is home after several years in the army, he has an honorable discharge.

Mendie Lawson is home for some time and Chester Westfall is home on an extended furlough.

Bobby Wilson will soon be home he called home Sunday evening from Indiantown Gap, he has not been home for some time.

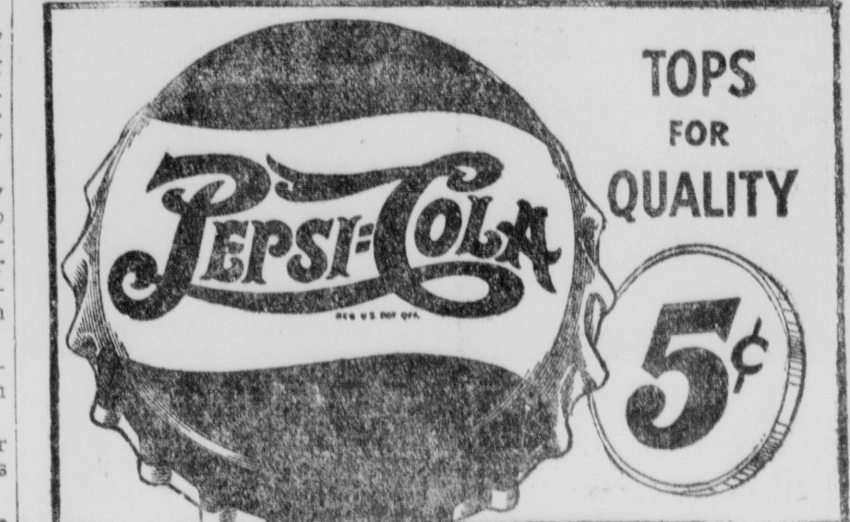

Johnny Randanilla is home after undergoing an operation at the Warren hospital. Mrs. Bertha Walters is home after a two weeks visit with her son Raymond and family at Oil City.

A very enjoyable gathering was enjoyed at the parlors of the Methodist church Thursday, Oct.

11 as a welcome for the new minister, Rev. Chitester and wife.

Mrs. Carbon who has been the assistant postmaster for some time has resigned her position on account of ill health, her place will be filled by Miss Francis Fetto.

The child still lives somewhere in Europe

IT MIGHT have been Rotterdam. It might have been Coventry. It might have been Greece...

The shriek and roar of a bomb... and that was all. It happened to thousands of mothers. They're gone. Their homes are gone. Rubble!

Who took care of the babies? Who gave them something to eat? Who found them a place to sleep? Who cared for them and comforted them? Who taught them to talk and walk?

YOU did!

You did all that and more... when you gave so generously to your Community War Fund. Your donation kept alive many a little tot in war-torn lands across the seas. Your donation helped war-separated families here at home, too... gave maternity aid... forestalled juvenile delinquency.

Surely, you're not going to stop helping now... when the need is greater than ever before! (500,000 destitute war orphans are now wandering in Yugoslavia alone.) You'll give again... won't you?

Some of your gifts will go to the U.S.O. to bring relaxation to a lonely soldier, perhaps your own. It will bring smiles to wounded veterans in hospitals, and aid war-stranded merchant seamen.

You are being asked to give again because those who can't help themselves need your help—badly. Give to your Community War Fund... make your gift as big as your heart.

New GridLoop 'Raids' Roster Of Pro League

Chicago, Oct. 17.—(P)—The all-American conference, embryonic professional football league that expects to begin operation in 1946, is going into the rosters of the long-standing National Football League for players, and apparently there's nothing the established league can do about it.

There's no agreement between the two leagues to prohibit such "raiding." Either can outbid the other for players, under present circumstances.

Two franchise holders of the new league, at Chicago and San Francisco, yesterday announced signing of three players each. All six are servicemen, among them three who had competed in the national grid circuit.

Technically, the three are bound to old contracts. Legally, nothing can stop them from playing where they wish, despite a national football league rule that suspends a player under contract for five years if he "jumps" the league.

The Chicago franchise holder, John L. Keeslin, announced he had signed Capt. George Franck of the marines, an all-American halfback at Minnesota in 1940 and a former New York Giants player; Lt. Robert Dove of the marines, once a Notre Dame star, and Lt. Elroy Hirsch of the marines, erstwhile Wisconsin and Michigan star who had been offered a contract by the Cleveland Rams.

Assistant Coach Jim Lawson of the San Francisco club said Len Eshmont, former Fordham star and a New York Giant player; Parker Hall of Mississippi and the Cleveland Rams, and Hank Norberg of Stanford all had signed contracts.

SPORTS ACROSS PENNSYLVANIA

By Tom Shriver

Harrisburg, Oct. 17.—(P)—Out around Bedford the password to gridiron success seems to be "Fisher to Faust."

The Bedford Bisons, under the coaching direction of Bruce Fisher, have won six straight in the western conference ... and they have yet to be scored upon ... Meanwhile the boys have rolled up 206 points.

Young Bruce Fisher, Jr., has pitched exactly 16 touchdown passes in six games ... Ten aerials went into the waiting arms of Jack Faust ... Five were caught by Charles Watters ... Just to vary the thing—Dave Rose caught the other one ... But that's not all ... Young Fisher took the ball on the first play of the season against Boswell and went 73 yards for a touchdown ... In the Somerset game he went 65 yards to score ... No wonder his dad uses him as a regular.

Played For Tarheels

A lot of the fans at Franklin Field last Saturday were so busy watching Munger's Maulers roll up touchdowns that they overlooked a chap in the North Carolina backfield ... His name was Bill Flannish ... And he got his football start at Allentown High ... Which reminds us that George Rote, of John Harris High is making good at Tempe ... and Burt Sutton of Brownsville is doing a swell job at Duke.

A Few Bouquets

Joe Fromuth, who was proclaimed "all-American boy" when he played in the American Legion baseball tournament can also play football ... He demonstrated that to the satisfaction of all concerned when he paced Reading Catholic to a 38-7 victory over Allentown Catholic.

Playing on a Columbia high eleven that often is overlooked in the weekend football rush, co-captain "Cork" Carnahan covered himself with glory as his team beat Middletown, 21-19 ... His final touchdown in the closing minute of the game actually decided the issue.

Keep your eye on Jack Detwiler, the battling-ran fullback of the undefeated Huntingdon Bearcats ... He was too much for Lock Haven, just as he has been too much for five other opponents this year.

For real thrills the 20-20 game between Clearfield and Osceola Mills took the prize ... A slender lad named Joe Latz ran and passed all day to keep Osceola in the ball game ... He got a lot of help from Bill Helms ... This pair will bear watching in future games.

Like Father, Like Son
Back in the good old days Dr. Herman Harvey played for Minersville ... and his team-mate was Dr. Harold Clappier ... Now they both have boys playing football ... Young Herman Harvey, Jr., is following in dad's footsteps at Minersville ... But young Bob Clappier is at Pottsville ... And one of the big reasons why the Schuylkill county eleven is making an excellent showing on the gridiron.

Mixed Doubles
In the Moose Mixed Doubles League matches, which were rolled at the Moose last Friday night, the Wolves, paced by Ralph Brown's 187 single and 500 total, copped a four-point victory via forfeit over the Badgers, and the Lions won four points also by walloping the Foxes.

J. Perry turned in a 180 single game and Rudolph totaled 496 ... led the Lions and New Odell's 163 single and Gil Branch's 437 total were high for the losers.

Mixed doubles matches will be rolled tonight again.

Behind the Lines

Today's column is being written before the sale of the Valvoline property on Lexington avenue by the commissioners. The time of the disposal is this afternoon and the highest bidder will undoubtedly gain possession.

If the Memorial Committee does not purchase the property, Warren sports fans can just about kiss their chances of a modern athletic plant good-bye. This committee, composed of members of the chamber of commerce and borough council, has been at work for some time now planning the proposed stadium and obtaining various opinions and possibilities of its erection. Very few persons in Warren are familiar with the committee's progress, but this week will either make or break the memorial to the Warren county young men who have fought and given their lives in World War II.

Warren is lagging behind. In Oil City, the Athletic Club has raised funds to purchase the franchise and the assets of the Oil City baseball club. This athletic club now consists of 123 members, and is increasing rapidly. DuBois, Pa., already equipped with a modern football stadium, is planning a Memorial Park Association to erect a fitting memorial to veterans of both World Wars. Bradford, during the war, raised approximately $400,000 for a modern hospital and $200,000 for a new YWCA. Both amounts were by popular subscription. What has Warren done?

Semi-pro, or even possibly professional, football will again make its debut in Warren. But how successful will it be without the popular support of the townspeople and modern playing facilities? How many persons will back the various baseball teams which will appear here in the next few years?

There is one very slim chance that the stadium will have a breath of life remaining if the memorial committee does not purchase the Valvoline. Possibly another site can be found.

You will know almost definitely whether or not we will have the stadium when the memorial group meets this week. The proposal will either live or be given a quick death.

SPORTS ROUND-UP

By HUGH FULLERTON, JR.

New York, Oct. 17.—(P)—The current agreement between the major and minor baseball leagues likely will be extended for another year by means of a mail vote, thus removing most of the reasons for a good scrap when the minors meet at Columbus, O., in December ... More material for football arguments: Charley Caldwell, Princeton coach, says Cornell's Alan Dekdebrun is the best passer in the east while Columbia Lou Little, who had Dekdebrun for a while, says he's good but that his own Gene Rossides will be "very good" when he gets a little more experience. And tuss McLaughry of Dartmouth lists Frank Danciewicz of Notre Dame as "the best quarterback in the country from the standpoint of running a team". ... Joe Louis says he'll remove his moustache as soon as he starts serious training. Apparently he doesn't want to beat Billy Conn by a whisker.

No Hurt Feelings

Bob Rutkowski, Navy veteran who plays quite a bit of guard for Penn State, is rough enough for anyone on the football field but he virtually oozes good will ... Against Colgate, Bob found Paul Redfield, 210-pound tackle, something of an obstacle, but he went to work and after a while Redfield was taken out ... As the Colgate player moved off the field, Rutkowski rushed up and said: "I'm sorry, sir, if I seemed to treat you a little roughly. But, gee, you're not an easy guy to take out of the play."

Penn State Leads Boys' Grid League

Penn State, captained by Francis Griffin, has taken the lead in the YMCA Boys' Football League with a 26-6 win over Georgia, captained by Mike D'Angelo, and a 1-0 forfeit last night over Chuck Ayres' Navy six.

Four teams are entered in the league with games scheduled Tuesday and Thursday afternoons and Saturday mornings of each week. The schedule remaining to be played in the first half follows: Oct. 18—Pitt vs. Georgia; Oct. 20

Discharge Scores Cut In the Navy

Washington, Oct. 17.—(AP)—The navy has knocked down discharge scores for most of its personnel, with a goal of releasing more than 1,100,000 officers and men by New Year's. Previously the service had expected to send home only about 830,000 by Christmas.

Announcing cuts effective November 1 for all but a few classifications, the navy also promised further reductions in point scores in December and January. For most enlisted men the point score total was cut from 44 to 41. Further reductions to 39 on December 1 and to 38 on January 1 were promised.

Auto Registration In State Climbing

Harrisburg, Oct. 17.—(AP)—Passenger motor vehicle registrations jumped 43 per cent in September over the like period of 1944, the revenue department reported today.

The report at the same time listed revenues of the Bureau of Motor Vehicles from registrations and other fees from April 1 to Sept. 30 at $31,541,074 against $20,676,347 in the corresponding period of 1944.

The gain in revenues in September—the first full month after lifting of gas rationing—from all sources, however, was 40.5 per cent with receipts totalling $416,190 against $296,304 in September, 1944.

In that month, registrations of commercial motor vehicles were 3,450, a 46.6 per cent gain over a year ago.

Atom Poses Grave Menace to Nation

Washington, Oct. 17.—(AP)—Overnight slaughter of 40,000,000 American citizens and "virtual destruction of this country" were described by atom bomb makers today as possibilities of the terrible new weapon.

Both were seen as conceivable should war break out again in a distrustful family of nations.

The scientists, Dr. J. R. Oppenheimer of the New Mexico laboratory and Dr. H. J. Curtis of the Oak Ridge, Tenn., plants, testified at senate committee hearings.

Oppenheimer was asked by Senator Fulbright (D-Ark) whether it was a fair statement to say that 40,000,000 Americans in congested centers could be destroyed in one atomic raid.

"I'm afraid it is," Oppenheimer replied. Curtis said the problems generated by discovery of the atom bomb were so great over the world that "one false move in international diplomacy might mean the virtual destruction of this country."

WHO FOUND A WALLET?

In the classified column today appears an advertisement inserted by a member of the U. S. Navy who is home on leave at the present time and had the misfortune to lose a black wallet containing a large sum of money as well as official cards and papers containing the name of the loser. It is hoped that the wallet was picked up by some patriotic person who will appreciate the importance of returning it to the owner, or the Times-Mirror. Don't let the sailor boy down!

Nazi Party's Master File Is Unearthed

(From Page One) A team under Maj. William Browne, former chief of detectives in Portland, Ore., accomplished the job of unearthing the records which give the first official figures on the number of Nazi party members.

The Nazis had ordered the records burned, but the orders for some reason never were carried out.

Although the membership figures approached 8,000,000, American authorities estimated that because of deaths, expulsions and resignations the Nazi party at its peak probably never had more than 7,000,000 active members.

New Officers Are In Charge For Boosters

Warren School Music Boosters Club got its fall season under way with the first meeting in Beaty school auditorium last evening, a new slate of officers taking over and a different type of program presented by the entertainment committee.

Students were invited to attend the meeting for the first time and turned out in good numbers to enjoy the program of sound movies planned by Harry Summers and shown by Archie Hunter. These pictures, several of which were prepared as part of the school visual education program, were a departure in program type and were much enjoyed by students and adults.

Basil White, retiring president, opened the meeting with reports by the secretary-treasurer, Mrs. W. C. Fuellhart, who read the statement of the auditors, W. E. Yeager and H. L. Blair.

Creed A. Erickson, newly elected head of the club and chairman of the annual tag day conducted this past summer, reported a net of $1,080.95 from this project.

Mr. White expressed his thanks to his officers and committee heads who had cooperated so well with him during his term of office. New officers taking over were Mr. Erickson, president; Richard G. Smith, vice president; Mrs. Leonard Swanson, secretary-treasurer; with Mr. White and Mrs. Fuellhart added to the board of directors for three-year terms. Other directors are Mrs. Lester Blair, F. E. Kieshauser, Harry Thurn, W. P. Taylor. Mr. Erickson announced appointment of Harry Summers as program chairman for the new year and Mrs. Freeman O. Peterson as social chairman.

The meeting night was found to conflict with PTA activities and it was voted to hold future sessions on the first Tuesday of each month.

In announcing his program, Mr. Summers expressed his appreciation to the club members who transported bandmen to the Warren-Jamestown game last Friday, also to the New Process Company for its trucking of instruments to the game. He also expressed his own and the musical groups' gratitude to the club for "nice things done for us in the past year."

Freight Wreck Costly; Many Cars Off Track

One of the most destructive freight wrecks that has taken place near Warren in many months took place this morning at 7:10 near the old Pittsfield railroad station. Nineteen cars of an east bound ore train were derailed and piled high in the air in a jumbled heap, cars being strewn along over some distance.

A large amount of the railroad roadbed was torn up and many telephone poles carrying the wires of the railroad were sheared off and wire signals were interrupted.

Wrecking crews from Warren and Erie were dispatched to the scene and it is expected to be many hours before the lines are open due to the large amount of track damaged.

The wreck took place about the time train 581 was arriving in this city from the east and it was derailed by way of Oil City and Corry into Erie. The east bound train was also derailed from Corry to Oil City and thence into Warren and it was late in arriving in this city.

FARM NEWS

Mastitis Increases In Autumn Season

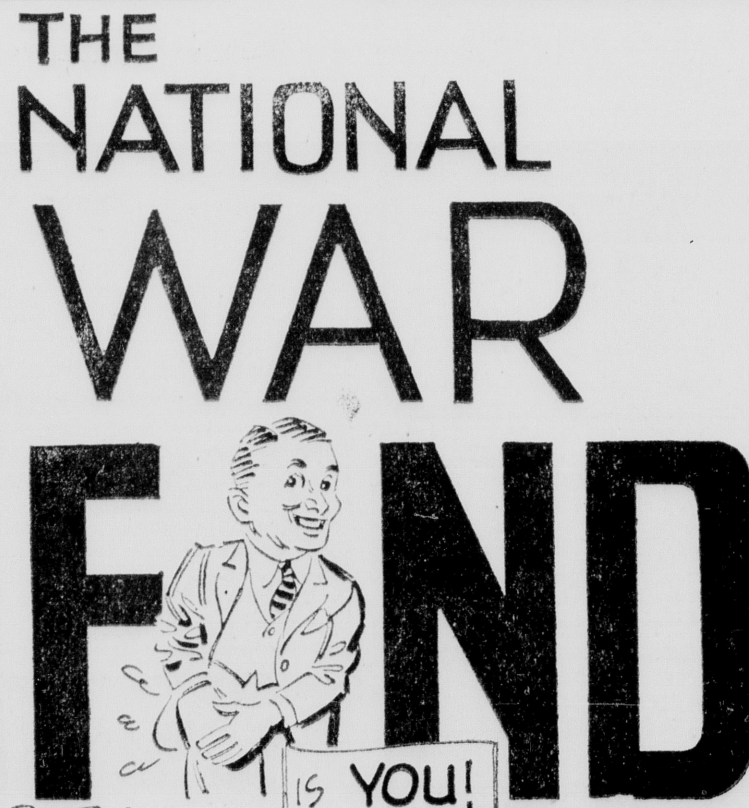

Twice as many cases of mastitis are recorded in late autumn as during either summer or winter, reports County Agent O. C. Tritt. This increase is attributed to greater amounts of chilling suffered by the cows.

When cows become chilled, their ability to fight off any germs that may be present is lowered. This lowers the resistance of the cows. But when this resistance is lowered, as by chilling, mastitis often results.

Prevalence of mastitis during this season can be attributed to chilling resulting when cows are left in the pasture on cold, rainy days, turned into cornstalk field in cold weather, forced to sleep on cold ground when they should be in well-bedded stalls, and turned out into the fields when weather is too cold for their comfort.

When cows are brought into the stable, care should be taken to keep them well bedded so that their udders will not lie on a cold concrete floor. Doors and windows that expose cows to draft should be kept closed on wind days and nights.

This would be a good time to plan installing a ventilation system that will keep the stable at uniform temperature and yet provide adequate ventilation at times of the year.

MESSAGE ON DRAFT WILL BE DELIVERED

President to Appear Before Joint Session Tuesday to Discuss Peacetime Universal Training

URGES PROMPT ACTION

Washington, Oct. 17.—(P)—President Truman will appear before congress next Tuesday to deliver a message on peacetime universal training.

The president will address a joint session at 12:30 p. m. Speaker Rayburn told reporters after a White House conference on the administration's legislative program.

Mr. Truman has indicated his support for military training along the lines advocated by General George C. Marshall, army chief of staff.

Announcement of the president's plan came as Secretary of War Patterson advocated merger of the war and navy department as a step toward maintaining world peace.

Urging prompt action on the controversial plan, he told the senate military committee the subordinate branches should be ground set and air.

In my opinion, the unification of our armed forces is an essential step to the development of a sound program for the future security of the American people," he said. "The adoption of such a program of organization of our armed forces is best calculated to maintain that security and the continuation of world peace."

Three developments showed it along a road it has seemed reluctant to start traveling:

1. Reports by legislators that President Truman soon will ask for universal military training.

2. Likelihood that the war department will ask permanent status for the office of presidential chief of staff, now held by Adm. William D. Leahy.

3. Split between army and navy brass hats over proposals to merge the two departments.

Most legislators were wagging their heads over the prospect that Mr. Truman will toss into their troubled ranks the issue of drafting men for military training when there isn't a war on.

Gen. George C. Marshall, army chief of staff, voiced a new plea for universal training last night, terming it vital to world security plans. Speaking at a dinner of the reserve officers association, the general asserted:

"The ability to enforce what we feel is the right thing, the decent thing in the world will depend on a citizen army."

General Strike in Argentina Called

Buenos Aires, Oct. 17.—(P)—Argentina's largest labor organization, the General Confederation of Workers, announced today it had called a general nationwide strike for a 24-hour period beginning at 12:01 a. m. tomorrow.

Spokesmen for the union, which has a membership estimated at 1,500,000 persons, said the strike was called in protest against "any government of Oligarchs" and against "delivery of the government to the supreme court."

The General Workers Confederation includes among its members the railroad tramways union, telephone workers syndicate, common employees and construction syndicates, the waiters union, meat industry workers and other affiliated groups.

Nearly Million Japanese Are Granted Amnesty By Emperor

By MURLIN SPENCER
Tokyo, Oct. 17.—(P)—Emperor Hirohito, whose future has been a burning topic of speculation ever since the American occupation, granted amnesty today to nearly 1,000,000 Japanese as an openly avowed move to unite Nippon "in meeting a great change in history."

Domestic agency noted that one effect of the rescript, honoring the day when the first rice crop is offered to the gods, would be to enable as many people as possible to take part in the coming elections.

"We, in meeting a great change in history, are indeed concerned to conquer the difficulties of the times with the country united as one and with trust in the cooperation and assistance of all the people," said the rescript. "Therefore, we have ordered our officials

Cancellation of 52 Billion In Government Spending Is Authorized By House Group

Washington, Oct. 17.—(P)—Cancellation of $52,453,535,278 in government spending authorized for the current fiscal year was recommended today by the house appropriations committee.

A direct result of the war's end, the legislation which the committee sent to the house for consideration tomorrow provides for:

Cancellation of $48,264,441,439 in direct appropriations already made for the year ending next June 30.

Wiping out $4,187,903,339 in contractual authority for the same period. If used, this would have required additional appropriations of that amount.

Recovery of $1,990,000 in funds of corporations created by the coordinator of inter-American affairs.

Fatal Shooting In Pittsburgh Still Probed

Pittsburgh, Oct. 17.—(P)—Police reported today the missing wrist watch and ruby ring of Frank Amberson has been found, this eliminating robbery as a motive in the fatal shooting of the 50-year-old Springdale candy merchant.

Hector Marrianna, assistant police bureau operator, said he found the ring and watch when he searched Amberson's auto. Marrianna was stricken with appendicitis the same day and the items were in his possession when he was sent home ill.

Police Commissioner Harvey Scott said he was "inclined to believe" the shooting of Amberson could have happened in the way William Blader, 18-year-old part-time Pitt student, described it in his third statement to police.

Blader contended he shot Amberson because the merchant tried to molest him.

Friends of Amberson angrily denied the merchant's character was such as described by Blader. Superintendent Scott, said, too, all the evidence pointed to Blader. He tended to show Amberson's character and reputation was irreproachable.

Blader, who has told several conflicting stories since his arrest—including first a complete denial, then an assertion that the shooting happened accidentally while he was "just trying a new gun"—surprised police yesterday by inquiring at the end of a lengthy session of questioning:

"Can I go home now?"

Superintendent Scott reported Blader has renounced his belief in the supernatural philosophy of Nietzsche. Blader said, according to Scott, "It got me into trouble."

Mrs. Rita Blader, who came from Brooklyn Monday to see her son, checked out of her hotel room last night. Police said they believe she returned home. She had been unable to see her son as police barred all visitors during questioning.

Java Seethes With Unrest Politically

BULLETIN
—Extremists of the Nationalist Youth Movement areas of Java tonight, killing and looting in frenzied zeal to show their hatred for Europeans.

By RALPH MORTON

Batavia, Java, Oct. 17.—(P)—Political unrest seethed throughout Java today as the Indonesian National Council awaited a reply from the Allied command in the Netherlands East Indies to a set of four major nationalist demands which Council Vice President Mohammed Hattin said represented "the only way to bring peace to this troubled land."

In Amsterdam Dr. H. A. Logemann, minister of overseas territory, said the government was ready to offer Indonesians self government within the Dutch commonwealth and would deal with Indonesian leaders "who merit consideration," but not with Soekarno, president of the "Indonesian republic."

The four-point program submitted to Lt. Gen. A. F. Christon, Allied commander in the Netherlands East Indies, called for removal of all Japanese, deportation of all Dutch troops and prevention of the arrival of additional Dutch soldiers, a quiescent role for the Netherlands Indies civil administration, the recognition by an impartial United Nations committee of the Indonesian National Council as the de facto government of the country.

TO CARRY OUT AN AMNESTY

to carry out an amnesty. All our officials and people embody our will."

The rescript, unprecedented in scope, pardoned 320,000 Japanese, reduced the sentence of 37,000 and ordered restoration of civil rights to 600,000.

Headquarters reversed a previous decision which would have established quotas of news correspondents in Japan, the Philippines and Korea. The lifting of the quotas, which had been announced last Friday, followed protests by the press in the United States and by the Correspondents Club in Tokyo.

Eighth Army headquarters reported the arrest and imprisonment of Lt. Gen. Shigeru Sawada, accused of complicity in the execution of some of Lt. Gen. James H. Doolittle's fliers who raided Japan April 18, 1942.

LARGE GROUND FORCE URGED BY MARSHALL

Army Chief of Staff Tells House Committee Atom Bomb Increases Need For Big Army

ARNOLD ALSO HEARD

Washington, Oct. 17.—(P)—Development of the atom bomb has increased, rather than decreased, the importance of the soldier who fights on the ground, in the opinion of Gen. George C. Marshall.

The army chief of staff told the house appropriations committee that if some future war finds enemy nations tossing atom bombs at each other, somebody is going to have to move in and stop the enemy firing.

Testifying on an appropriation cancellation bill, made public today, Marshall had this to say about the "effect of the atomic bomb on the size of the military establishment."

"I would say that it has increased the necessity for greater immediacy in the availability of a force to be used at the outset of an emergency for the reason that we would have to act quickly in order to terminate a destructive attack of atomic nature."

If a war of atom bombs ever gets started, Marshall indicated, the United States intends to have a good supply of the devastators on hand. The two big bomb plants were reported producing "right now" and "building up a reserve."

Gen. H. H. Arnold, head of the Army Air Forces, told the committee of the high cost of scrapping surplus B-17 (Flying Fortress) and B-24 (Liberator) planes. Arnold said he believed it would "be economy in the long run" to take them "out to some place such as one of our stations in the west and then have a big press roll them into a compressed piece of metal, throw that into the furnace, pour it out in pigs and stack the pigs up. Then you have something that is an asset instead of a liability."

Committee members said it cost $2,600 to tear down a Liberator for salvage, but the highest bids received for the different parts were $2,100.

By CHARLES CHAMBERLAIN

Lüneburg, Oct. 17.—(P)—In a voice charged with defiance, blonde 22-year-old Irma Grese admitted under cross examination today that she lashed prisoners at the Oswiecim concentration camp with a cellophane-braided whip and clubbed them with a walking stick.

She said she scourged the prisoners in spite of camp orders against such methods of handling them.

The hard-visaged young SS guard denied under questioning by Prosecutor Col. T. M. Backhouse that she amused herself by sending women to work at a sand pit outside of the wire, where they would be shot by guards on alert for escape attempts. Backhouse suggested she was lying and she snapped:

"I took an oath to tell the truth and you can think what you like. But I'm not lying. I never was in charge of the working party at the sand pit. I never sent women across the wire."

Extremely nervous under the barbed cross examination, she constantly looked and unlocked her fingers, or tugged at the sleeve of her SS tunic.

She also denied she had set trained dogs on the prisoners.

"I suggest you had a dog," the prosecutor said.

"I should know better than you if I had a dog," she retorted defiantly.

Lt. Col. Backhouse accused her of habitually kicking and beating women prisoners, and of enjoying the practice. The defendant almost rose from her seat and shouted:

"And I say you are badly informed about me and it's a big lie!"

Funds Asked For Public Works Plans

Washington, Oct. 17.—(P)—President Truman today asked congress for appropriations totaling $221,842,000 for the resumption of public works programs interrupted by the war.

The recommendations included $128,475,000 for the corps of engineers and $93,367,000 for the bureau of reclamation. Earlier in the week, he had requested $2,998,000 for the Civil Aeronautics Administration, $25,000,000 for the Public Roads Administration and $1,641,000 for the International Boundary Commission.

Funds recommended for the flood control program under the army engineers provide for the completion of 32 deferred projects and resumption of work on 25 other projects. They also provide for initiation of 31 projects expected to be completed by 1948 and 25 others which will take longer to construct.

CONTROLS SMOKE BY TWIST OF THE WRIST

Columbus, O., Oct. 17.—(P)—Smoke can be controlled by a twist of the wrist device, says E. R. Keiser, assistant director of bituminous coal research of Pittsburgh.

He proved the theory in a demonstration at Union Station here before the Smoke Prevention Association of America. One minute, clouds of dirty, black smoke poured from five steam locomotives. Then, with a twist of the control device, the smoke disappeared. In its place was a light tan haze hovering over the engines.

Municipal smoke control officials and combustion engineers of coal companies were among the more than 200 persons attending the meeting.

Girl Admits Brutality In Prison Camp

By CHARLES CHAMBERLAIN

Flat Cut In New Tax Bill Is Urged

Washington, Oct. 17.—(P)—The United States Chamber of Commerce urged congress today to give individual income tax payers a flat reduction of 20 to 25 per cent in the new tax bill.

Ellsworth C. Alvord, chairman of the chamber's committee on federal finance, also asked the senate finance committee for repeal of the corporate excess profits and reduction of the corporate surtax.

His prepared testimony came after Chairman George (D-Ga.) told reporters he believes tax relief under the bill should be limited to $5,000,000,000, as recommended by Secretary of the Treasury Fred M. Vinson.

The house ways and means committee has estimated that its version of the legislation, as passed by the house, would reduce federal revenues $5,350,000,000.

War Labor Board Will Stop Issuing Orders On Monday

Washington, Oct. 17.—(P)—The War Labor Board stops issuing orders next Monday, but some members believe President Truman shortly will adopt their idea for a new commission to revise the wage-price policy.

In other quarters there were hints today that any new policy will not stray far from the present hold-the-line formula.

This opinion was based in part on an anti-inflation speech delivered in Boston yesterday by Reconstruction Director John W. Snyder.

As the United Mine Workers' strike continued to spread paralysis through the soft coal fields, these other developments occurred in Washington:

1. A spokesman for the bituminous operators said they were "almost together" on a new proposal which might permit the reopening of conciliation efforts conducted by Secretary of Labor Schweinfach.

2. UMW President John L. Lewis considered calling the union's 250-man policy committee to Washington to confer on strategy on the dispute, which revolves around a demand for recognition of the UMW Foremen's union.

3. There were vocal demands from senators for anti-strike legislation, with Sen. Reed (R-Kan.) asserting in an interview that unions should be held by law to "a proper degree of responsibility."

4. The house military committee scheduled hearings today on repeal of the Smith-Connally act, the law that permits unions to petition for strike votes after a 30-day "cooling-off" period.

Critics of the act charge that it fosters strikes by giving implied government approval if unions vote to walk out.

Calls Report Of Eisenhower Misleading

Philadelphia, Oct. 17.—(P)—Earl G. Harrison, U. S. representative on the inter-governmental committee on refugees, says Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower's report citing transfer of Jews from concentration camps to houses in Germany was "generally misleading."

The dean of the University of Pennsylvania Law School, in a radio address last night, said "it is true that General Eisenhower gave orders that they (Jews) be given preference in housing, but his commanders have not been carrying out his orders."

Harrison asserted that Nazis still live in houses while Jews are forced to remain in concentration camps.

Eisenhower's report to President Truman answered charges made by Harrison that the American occupation army was "treating the Jews as the Nazis treated them except that we do not exterminate them."

The Allied commander said "at the time of Mr. Harrison's report, there were perhaps 1,000 Jews still in their former concentration camps."

"What difference does it make what kind of camps they are in?" he asked. "The point is that they shouldn't be in any camps at all, but in houses. Shifting them from one camp to another can hardly be said to be liberation."

Fortunes In Jewels Found Near Tokyo

Tokyo, Oct. 17.—(P)—American searchers have found fortunes in diamonds, platinum, gold and silver which Japanese admirals and generals had cached in secluded areas—but never were able to remove from the country because the war ended so abruptly.

General MacArthur's headquarters disclosed today that one party discovered "a fabulous fortune in diamonds" in a chicken coop atop a mountain 160 miles north of Tokyo. In another instance, a package resembling a packet of hamburger yielded 8,000 karats of diamonds.

Eleven crates of platinum were discovered beside the chicken coop. Two Japanese admirals' aides guided Americans to the cache.

At a dinner meeting the oil men heard Maj. W. E. R. Covell, Washington, D. C., praise the industry for the wartime co-operation.

Man Is Killed In A Freak Accident

Altoona, Oct. 17.—(P)—A freak accident killed one man and hurt another to the hospital last night. Dr. Joseph Roman was driving Charles G. Frank, 47, and Theodore Devine, 45, to their homes after a visit at his house.

The car stalled. A friend, John Specht, who lived nearby, offered to push Dr. Roman's car to get it started.

The bumper did not mesh. Frank and Devine climbed on the rear bumper of the doctor's car to weight it down.

When Specht's car applied the push, the bumper sprang suddenly, hurling both men to the street. Frank's skull was fractured and he died within an hour.

Devine, cut and bruised, was taken to Mercy Hospital for observation.

SPOKESMAN FOR THE UNITED MINE WORKERS SAYS ACTION TAKEN "IN PUBLIC INTEREST"

Washington, Oct. 17.—(P)—John L. Lewis today called off the soft coal strikes, effective Monday. A United Mine Workers spokesman said the action was taken "in the public interest."

Lewis, in a telegram to officers and members of all local unions, said that future efforts to "abate this controversy" over recognition of his foremen's union "will be resumed at a later, more appropriate date."

The United Mine Workers' chief said "all negotiations incident to the controversy affecting clerical, technical and supervisory employees of the industry have been discontinued."

There are approximately 28,000 to 30,000 such workers. Strikes over their recognition as a unit in UMW began September 21 and had spread to more than 1,000 mines up to today.

More than half of the 400,000 soft coal miners were idle when the strikes were called off.

By the Associated Press

The number of persons away from work because of strikes, under the 400,000 mark early this week for the first time this month, expanded to 450,000 today and indications were that more thousands were to be added.

The widespread soft coal strikes, the country's most serious post-war labor dispute, was responsible for about one-half of the idle, including 216,000 miners from more than 1,000 pits in six states. Others forced into idleness indirectly because of strikes were from steel mills and other industries, whose operations have been sharply reduced by shortage of fuel.

Other front-ranking labor controversies of the more than 135 separate disputes across the country were the longshoremen's strike at New York's sprawling harbor; the prolonged controversy in Hollywood movie studios, with recent outbreaks of violence and sitdown picketing; a new technique in strike procedure, and the walkout of some 61,000 AFL Lumber Workers in the Pacific northwest.

Idle Miners Facing Fines Of Dollar Day

Pittsburgh, Oct. 17.—(P)—The Western Pennsylvania Coal Operators Association disclosed today its members are imposing the $1-a-day fines on miners idle in the 26-day-old coal strike, on grounds the stoppage is illegal and violates the United Mine Workers' contract.

This applies to 46,703 idle miners in the Pittsburgh-Uniontown area. More than 64,000 bituminous miners in the state are idle, including 17,318 in the Altoona area.

The association declared in a statement that the strike situation "is acute and existing can be long drawn out and expensive to all."

Total workers idle from the soft coal strike today reached at least 226,000—of whom 210,000 were miners and 16,000 steelworkers.

Carnegie-Illinois Steel Corp. alone has furloughed 15,000 workers in its western Pennsylvania area. Jones & Laughlin Steel Corp. has laid off 1,200 at its Allegheny mill. Other steel concerns, as well as chemical and other plants, have reported cutbacks in production because of the coal shortage, but.

"Private" Air Force Collected Nazi Planes for Study by AAF

Colonel Watson found "Alles Kaputt," giant German four-engine transport, in Norway. He flew it to Cherbourg, where it was placed aboard a British aircraft carrier for shipment to the United States. Contrast the clumsy appearance of the craft with the trim lines of the B-29 Superfort.

By DAVID A. STEIN
NEA Staff Correspondent
Freeman Field, Ind.—Uncle Sam gladly arranged for a British carrier, six Liberty ships and 96 freight cars to bring Col. Harold E. Watson's war souvenirs to the United States.

To collect his mementoes, Colonel Watson not only developed his own private air force, but recruited a Nazi Luftwaffe under American management—as well. Most of his souvenirs are German aircraft in flyable condition.

They were gathered while fighting was still in progress, by a strange collection of little-publicized dare-devils as ever doomed uniforms. Colonel Watson's air force was tiny, consisting of 20 naval experts and 20 Luftwaffe pilots and mechanics.

The Americans worked as Air Technical Intelligence teams. Usually a team of four experts would work together, borrowing a jeep and a GI sergeant who knew how to forage food and set up camp for the night in an open field. The men carried their own bedding and rations, and seldom completed a mission in less than a week or ten days.

The Luftwaffe recruits served a special function. They not only supplied technical information, but serviced German planes and tested them so that American fliers could be sure no sabotage had been attempted.

Colonel Watson's air force was organized shortly after American landings were made in Africa. The men followed the fronts, arriving at captured airports before the smoke of battle had cleared.

Frequently under fire, the ATI men had to be experts with all-weapons, and needed an amazingly varied background of training and talents. They had to recognize the importance of any new gadget they might find in a wrecked Nazi plane. They had to speak French and German well enough to question prisoners and find their way around on back roads. Most of them were pilots, engineers, mechanics, jeep and truck drivers.

They collected, in addition to aircraft in flying condition, all of the armament, turrets, engines, instruments, photographic equipment, rescue equipment, radar, and other technical devices in which the AAF had expressed an interest. These were rushed to Wright Field, where experts analyzed them and learned Luftwaffe secrets.

While Colonel Watson concentrated on aircraft, a staff of 300 experts gathered air accessories at three centers, in Mersberg, Stuttgart, and Nuremberg. Britain's RAF and the AAF cooperated in this "air technical liaison." British data on German aeronautical design, gained in a study of planes shot down during the Battle of Britain, was pooled with American knowledge.

Colonel Watson's biggest haul was made in Denmark, just before V-E Day. At airfields there, and later in Norway, many German planes were found intact. The salvaged craft were flown to Cherbourg, and a British carrier delivered them to Newark, N. J.

Now the strange collection of German planes has been assembled in hangars at Freeman Field near Seymour, Ind. Here they are taken apart, re-assembled, studied, and analyzed.

Performance data has been obtained on such German craft as the jet-propelled Messerschmitt "262", a fast-climbing, twin-motored fighter. Here, too, experts are studying the rocket-type Messerschmitt "163-B" single seat interceptor, which could climb to 30,000 feet in a little over two minutes—but could stay in the air only 12 minutes.

One of the strangest-looking transports ever to fly is "Alles Kaputt" the Junkers "290", intended as the German answer to the B-29. Air Technical Service Command experts, noting its clumsy appearance and poor performance have concluded that the Germans simply didn't know how to build four-motored bombers.

One of the strangest experimental planes was the Viper, a rocket-propelled interceptor launched with a pilot from a vertical ramp. Its life in the air was just 80 seconds, and then it simply disintegrated. Completely expendable, the craft was made of wood and carried 24 rocket projectiles to be launched against Allied bomber formations once the plane was in the air. The pilot was ejected and dropped by parachute. The tail fell off to drop the expensive rocket unit by parachute.

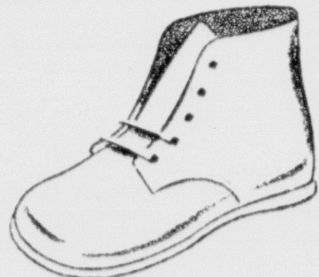

Freeman Field has been set up as experimental headquarters, where Air Technical Service Command experts will tear apart both German and Jap planes to learn the secrets of their performance. In addition, the field will maintain a museum of World War II Allied aircraft.

Idle Miners Facing Fines of Dollar Day

have not announced laying off workers.

The 210,000 idle miners, more than half the soft coal diggers in the U. S., were scattered over six states—West Virginia, Pennsylvania, Kentucky, Ohio, Tennessee and Indiana. Estimate of the men idle was based on reports from the Solid Fuels Administration, the United Mine Workers and the various coal operators' associations.

Steel spokesmen viewed the situation as becoming increasingly serious. Carnegie-Illinois said it had enough coal left for only three days capacity production but that "this supply will be stretched as far as possible by lowering the operating rate."

County Captains Show Great Enthusiasm For Loan Drive

A group of enthusiastic County Bond Leaders and Captains met Tuesday night to discuss plans for the 8th Victory Loan Campaign. County workers have always turned in an enviable record for bond sales, and judging from the spirit shown at the meeting they will excel again in this final drive to "Win the Peace".

Sales requirements and special features available for use in the county were discussed by N. D. Paterson and A. L. Rasmussen. M. H. Deardorff stressed the importance of all team captains starting now to prepare their workers for a successful drive. The campaign starts October 29th, less than two weeks, the period is short and every person is called upon to do his share.

For the 8th Victory Loan Campaign the County has been divided into six districts with quotas, leaders and captains as follows:

District 1—$33,600. Leader: Lyle R. Briggs; Asst. leader, Sarah E. Atkin; Captain, Mrs. George B. King.
District 2—$84,000. Leader: H. M.

Key; Asst. leaders: C. W. Spencer, Mrs. Florence Porter, Captains: Henry Danielson, Mrs. Fred Wilson, Mrs. Roy E. Johnson, Mrs. Berntie Siedler, Mrs. Lee Johnson, Charles Smith, Ralph Olson, Mrs. Margaret Spencer, Arthur G. Johnson.

District 3—$31,500. Leader: Robert Baldwin, Captains: Mrs. Herman Moll, Mrs. Hubert Kooman, Mrs. Allan Baker, Mrs. Frank Dodd, Miss Doris Engstrom.
District 4—$10,500. Leader: A. W. Goal, Captain, Mrs. C. A. Schneider.

District 5—$42,000. Leader: C. R. McNeal, Asst. leader, P. J. Funnerty and Alice Ruckenberg. Captain, Miss Effie Munro. Block leader head, Mrs. Grace Fitzgerald.

District 6—$8,400. Leader: R. E. Leonard, Asst. leaders: C. R. Morrison, J. P. Pascarella, Captains, Mrs. E. L. Van Sickle, Miss Alice Holmes.

Stanley Laurence is chairman of the Farm teams, assisted by acting captains Merle Dodd, Mr. and Mrs. Carl Peterson, Mrs. Lloyd Hedges, Arnell Carter, William Olney, John Moravsek, Leon Whiteley, and Alfred Akin.

Wilburine Plot Sold for $1150

WILBURINE . . . bvd. . . One of the most important parcels of land disposed of at the commissioners' sale at the court house at ten o'clock this morning was the tract on Lexington avenue known as the Wilburine property.

The plot, which comprises two blocks, with 63 lots already laid out, and considered one of the most desirable factory sites in the east side, was bid in by Albert Ristau, owner of the Reliable Furniture store.

The land has been under consideration by public spirited citizens as a fine location for the proposed memorial stadium and recreation center.

less the coal supply is increased soon at least 25,000 of the company's 35,000 employees in the Chicago and Gary, Ind., districts will be laid off. Most of the other steel mills reported similar conditions.

The Magazine Iron Age estimated the steel industry would lose more than 300,000 tons of steel ingots this week because of the enforced shutdowns. It said steel consumers received about 145,000 tons less last week than they would have under normal conditions.

More than 400 major operations and 93,000 miners are idle in West Virginia in what James V. Sullivan, secretary of the West Virginia Coal Association termed "the most costly strike ever waged in West Virginia." He said the stoppage is costing the public and persons affected "the princely sum of $32,500,000 weekly."

Miners idle in other states included 62,493 in Pennsylvania; 36,000 in Kentucky; 9,195 in Ohio; 8,000 in Tennessee; and 6,935 in Indiana.

There appeared no indications of an immediate ending of the 17-day old strike of AFL Longshoremen at New York harbor as CIO Longshoremen President Joseph P. Ryan.

Something new in strike procedure, sitdown picketing, was added to the prolonged strike of movie workers in Hollywood yesterday as AFL union officials and film producers sought to end the jurisdictional dispute. Sheriff's officers and police broke up the group of more than 300 pickets who sat in front of the entrance of Warner Brothers studio. Two persons were injured and three pickets were arrested in the disturbance.

year, the committee said, the Army Air Corps had 62,045 planes, with plans to dispose of 44,222 while acquiring 1,238 new ships.

To start the fiscal year, the army had a total of $47,129,605, 501 available to spend. The budget bureau and the president recommended cancellation of $28,692,772,000. The committee recommended a practice it followed generally in other budget and presidential recommendations.

The committee called for more rapid demobilization of army and navy personnel, urging both services to "immediately adopt the policy of releasing officer or enlisted personnel as and when the become surplus."

The committee said it did not believe the present point discharge systems would achieve the projected reductions in strength of schedule. It suggested adjusting the systems immediately to the demobilization programs and said the revision should be "promptly publicized in order that the individual and his family may know in advance what to expect and be able to plan accordingly."

The committee served notice that it hasn't finished slashing appropriations, asserting that "large rescissions are practicable" and will be forthcoming as soon as more definite figures on obligations and needs of the various agencies are available.

The biggest cut in the executive agencies' funds was $2,339,551,000 from the lend lease appropriation. It leaves the program now being liquidated, with cash and contractual availability of $1,879,182,000.

HIGH SCHOOL HOODLUMS

(Jamestown Post-Journal)

Arousing pep and enthusiasm for football games and celebrating victories on the gridiron have always been subjects viewed with sympathetic understanding by authorities and the public. Few have such short memories that they fail to recall their own ventures into such events.

But there is a wide difference between football enthusiasm and hoodlumism which closely resembles rioting. When a lawless element takes hold or enters into such celebrations they cease to be fun and become threats to the lives and safety of the public and participants.

Thus there can be no excusing the incidents in connection with the Jamestown-Warren football game both before and after the Friday game. Punishment must be meted out, and severely meted out, to those guilty of such incidents as may lead to the loss of an eye for a young girl and the vandalism resulting in the destruction of property.

There is no evidence that responsible student leaders in either high school took any part in this phase of the celebration. Neither is it known to us how much they did to try to curb the other element. The opportunity may not have been theirs, but we do know that occasionally a real leader among the youngsters can do more to stop such hoodlums than a dozen adults.

There can be no question but that the real fault for such rioting can be traced back to the homes of those who participated. When proper sportsmanship and respect for the property and safety of others is taught by example and training in the home, the young people reflect this training in their conduct even under the stress of mobs. This is a matter for deep thought by all parents, a searching of their own consciences.

All the remorse of those who took part in these incidents cannot restore the sight in the eye of the unfortunate girl from Pennsylvania, but the taking of inventory by all parents can prevent a recurrence of any such rioting in the future.

Last week's events are a blot on the records of both Warren and Jamestown High Schools. We know that undoubtedly many of those who participated may not be enrolled students in either school, but some were and they have brought shame on their schools. They should be so regarded by other students.

The parents and authorities have a responsibility to see that this may never happen again for we are supposedly a civilized community in a civilized nation. Let's act like civilized people.

THE END OF A TURNCOAT

The trial of Pierre Laval may have been a travesty on the normal procedure of French justice. But can anyone believe that the crime of Laval was of a nature to demand or deserve that justice? The record of his misdeeds is written for all the world to see in the history of the war and, more vividly, in the lives and deaths of Frenchmen who suffered through his treachery.

Laval's trial was, as Tom Wolf recently wrote from Paris, the "revolution by law" which General de Gaulle promised. It was, in the light of Laval's treachery, a fair and moderate trial, for all the emotion which his goading shrewdness called forth.

It cannot be said of Laval, as it was of Petain, that France herself was on trial. Petain was a confused, bigoted, reactionary and politically stupid old man. His mistakes reflected much of the mistaken peacetime thinking of his countrymen.

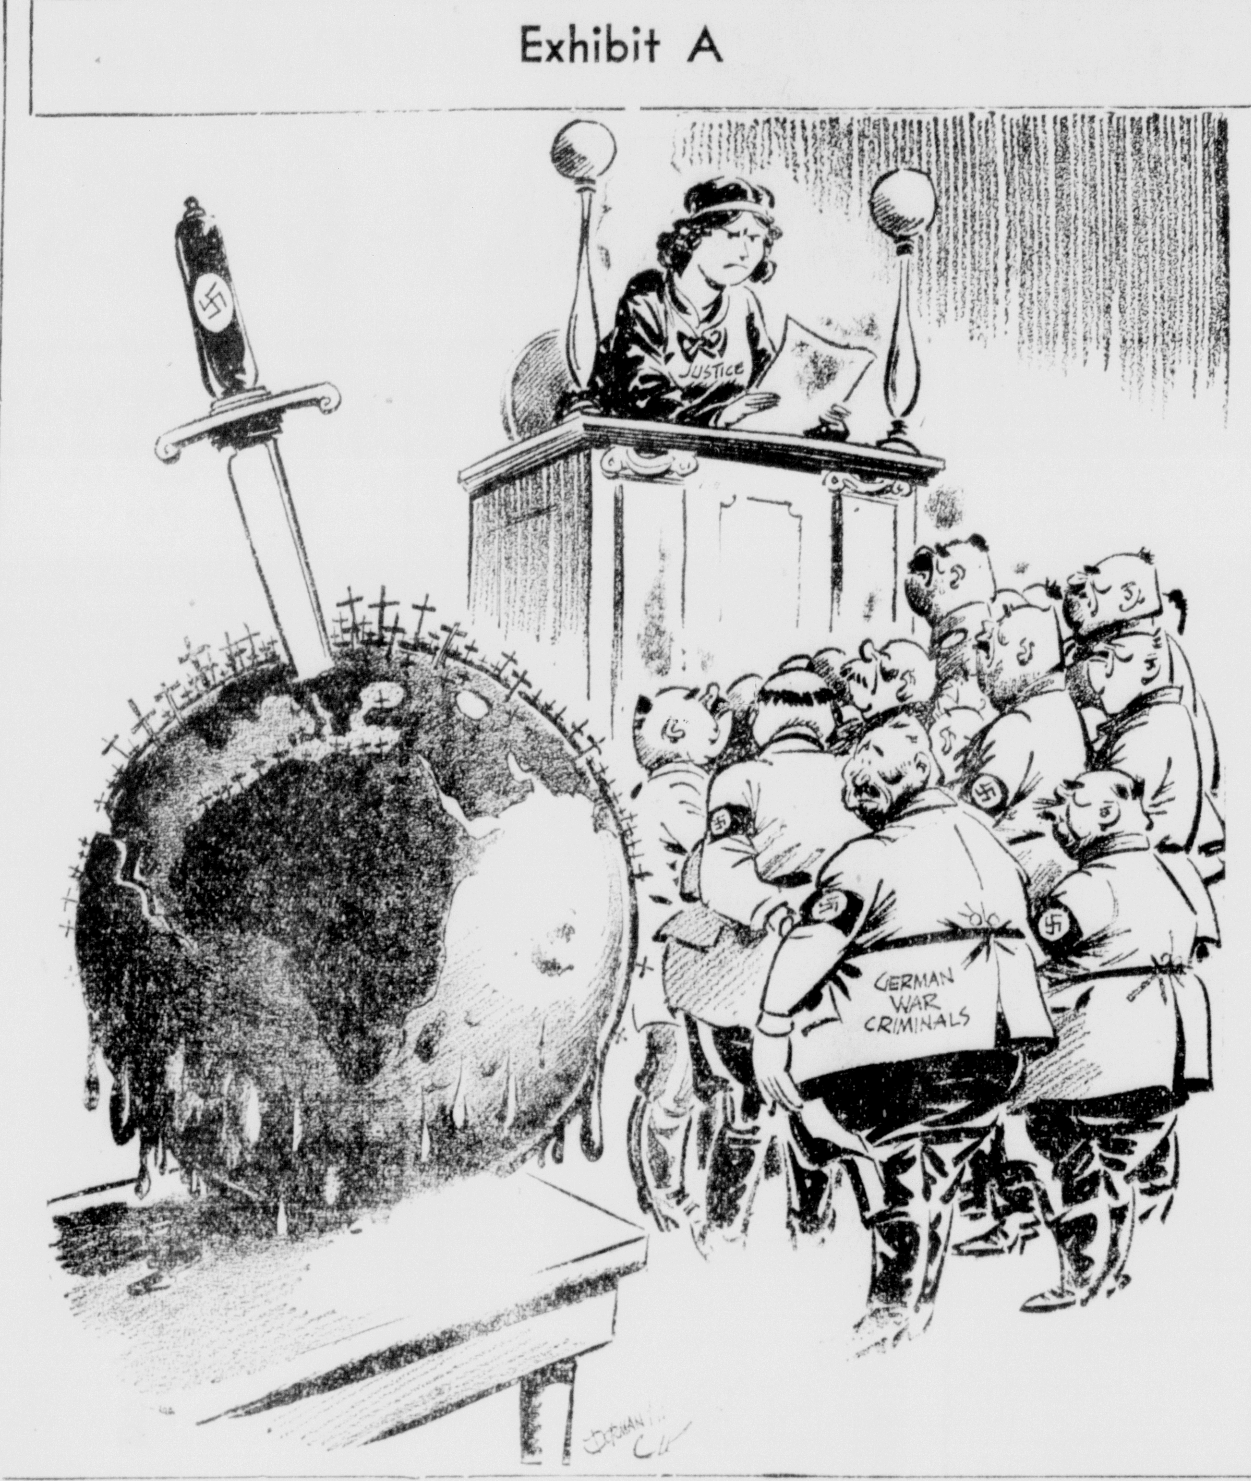

But Laval was an ambitious jackal, loyal to no one but himself, apparently despised as heartily by the Nazis whom he fawned upon as by the people whom he betrayed. His execution is a triumph of justice, no matter how irregularly that sentence may have been reached.

Indonesian references to "non-violence," similar to those which have accompanied India's outbursts in her long search for liberation from western domination, serve to remind that the present situation in Java is not some new post-war manifestation, but rather a continuation of a movement which has become indigenous to southeast Asia.

WASHINGTON DAYBOOK

by Jack Stinnett

WASHINGTON—In discussions of the world control of atomic bombs, it is surprising that the opinions of the scientists who still are working on the bombs are being given so little attention.

Rep. Walter H. Judd (R-Minn.) has laid one report from a group of these scientists before his colleagues, but few so far have incorporated any of the conclusions of the laboratory men into their public arguments.

EXCEPT for occasional outbursts by some Congressmen and other public officials who declare we should or shouldn't keep the bomb as a U. S.-British secret, Congress seems willing to wait until the President lays the problem squarely before it.

Even then, there probably will be some buck-passing between the legislative and executive branches.

"The scientists who created the atomic bomb," says Rep. Judd, "have spent sleepless nights on the question of what to do with their brain child."

And the scientists themselves reiterate this, pointing out that because of the secrecy surrounding its development they have been spending sleepless nights a good deal longer than those who only learned of its horrible force when the first bomb was dropped over Hiroshima.

THE scientists (who have elected to remain anonymous in making their report) set forth their conclusions with direct laboratory logic. They state simply that the United States has four alternatives in control of the atomic bomb and then proceed to show what is wrong with each one.

(1) Disregard the atomic bomb altogether in our formation of foreign policy.

Arguments for this are simply that the atomic bomb will not in the long run change the basic nature of war or conquest and that eventually science will develop an adequate defense against them.

To this latter, the scientists say unequivocally they can "offer no hope of a specific defense against the atomic bomb." They point out also that neither moral sanctions nor fear of retaliation has ever kept a power from using any weapon on its march of conquest. (The latter did prevent use of gas in the late war, but for reasons that wouldn't apply to the atomic bomb.)

(2) Keep our secret; control raw materials and build bigger and better bombs.

To this, the scientists say simply that any nation can find the secret for itself in two to five years; that the raw materials (especially uranium) are scattered all over the world; and that after a minimum number of bombs are constructed, bigger and better ones are just so much useless surplus.

(3) Conquer the world before anybody else can develop the bomb. This is against everything that the United States has fought and bled for and may be dismissed as unthinkable.

(4) Turn atomic power over to international control. The scientists recognize the difficulties ahead in this policy, especially that in so doing the United States will have to sacrifice some of its national sovereignty. But those are the possibilities in a nutshell. Take your pick, the scientists say.

Chapter 6

EVE was coming up the path as Anne reached the porch. "Hello, sugar!" she called and Anne waited for Eve to join her. "Goodness, you look friendless! What's wrong, cookie?"

"I haven't seen Wayne all day!" Anne stated bluntly, tears quite hot and close behind her eyes.

Eve's arm went around her. "So what? He'll be along tonight."

"I'm not so sure. There's a big party at his club. He'll probably go there." Her thoughts flew with a sickening little lurch, to the beautiful, self-assured Carol King and her calm acceptance of the fact that Wayne would be at that party.

They had come into the hallway now and Eve pounced on the stack of mail waiting on the table. With hands that trembled she went through it. Then she gave a wild shriek of delight.

"Anne! It's here! A letter from Garret!"

And for the moment Anne forgot her disappointment in observing the utter happiness on Eve's face.

Anne set the table and made sandwiches and a salad. When the coffee had perked she filled a blue plate with doughnuts and called Eve to the meal.

"Oh, Anne, darling, I'm sorry, I didn't sleep at all!"

Anne laughed. "You were not even in this world, Eve! And I didn't mind at all. We're dining lightly tonight—I hope that's all right with you."

"Bread and water would taste like the nectar of the Gods to me tonight, Anne." Eve cried, her eyes shining. "On, darling, Garret's well and as happy as it's possible to be—and he still loves me!"

"That's marvelous, Eve. But try to eat a little won't you?"

LATER, when the dishes were washed and the place in order, Anne left Eve to another perusal of her precious letter and went down once more to the garden. Rags at her heels.

The garden had burst into full bloom overnight. The forsythia and daffodils had been joined by flowering japonica. A rose tree had burst its buds in an array of blushing blossoms, while the old apple tree stood like a great bouquet in its corner of the garden.

Anne signed audibly and sank down on the circular seat that ran around the apple tree. A shower of pink blossoms wafted down like sifted rosy snowflakes into her lap. A feeling of deep depression came over her suddenly she was bitterly homesick. She wanted more than anything to be back at the farm with her own people.

Rags nestled on the seat beside her, as if sensing her loneliness, his head in her lap, and as she idly stroked his black head, she raised her face to the moon and the breeze.

"Moonstruck! That's what she is!"

The voice was so close beside her that she jumped. Wayne stood there, laughing down from his height.

"Wayne! Darling, where—?" she began, but he sat down quickly beside her and placed his lips on hers, stopping all conversation and thought as well. His arms went around her, held her close to his heart, so that suddenly all the homesickness and disappointment were dissolved into nothingness, and the night and the stars stood still for a moment of pure ecstasy.

"Anne!" he whispered. "Little darling! I love you so!"

And when a man talks to you like that, you forget that you've waited and looked for him for long hours—for time has ceased and matters not at all!

But after a while Wayne said, "I've had the devil's own time! First Aunt Edna hasn't been feeling so well and she kept me at her beck and call all day. Poor darling! I couldn't refuse to be with her when she's taking on so about my going away. Then I had to drive her on a round of the various relatives—she said I had to say goodbye to everybody."

"But you're not going for five days—four now—"

"I know, but just try to reason with Aunt Edna! She's had her way all her life and I guess she just intends to keep on having it! But she's a peach, really, Anne, you'll love her!"

Anne devotedly hoped so, but what was more to the point that Aunt Edna would love her! She couldn't help wishing it wouldn't be necessary to meet Mrs. McDowell during these days. Maybe Wayne wouldn't even suggest it, but wouldn't that be even worse? She felt all mixed up about it.

"I thought you'd gone to the club," she said.

He held her closer. "That's why I didn't argue too much with Aunt Edna," he explained. "I knew there'd be tonight for us. You didn't think I'd really go to the club—now did you, little darling?"

"You told that girl—Carol King—that you might see her."

"When you wouldn't go with me I scratched that shindig off my list!" he vowed. Later he asked, "Want to go to a movie or something?"

Anne shook her head. There could be nothing in the make-believe world of the movies as fascinating as this reality. "I'd like to stay right here. Mind?"

"Mind? Hey—what kind of a guy do you think I am?" He sighed in deep contentment. "Gosh, this one swell night!"

THEY sat there for a long time, locked in each others' arms. The garden was quiet and fragrant all about them. The stars and the chaste pale young moon provided a light for their love.

Suddenly he gripped her arms hard and turned her about to face him. "Look, Anne—what's the use in fooling around about this thing? We love each other—we're going to be separated for a while. Will you marry me before I go?"

FOOD FOR ALL

Besides Iowa's great waving fields of corn, its fields of other grains will feed millions, provide jobs for thousands and add to the Nation's wealth to guarantee War Bonds. Almost 10 million acres are at work. Annually the harvest amounts to 596 million bushels, worth $471,469,000. Iowa grows 201 million bushels of oats, 33 million bushels of soybeans and 55 million pounds of popcorn. Onions, asparagus and melons sprout and ripen there to help feed the world and win the war.

Akeley Man Is Eyewitness

The following news release from aboard the USS Nicholas will be read with interest by family and friends of the service man named therein:

Norman E. Bush, metalsmith third class, of Akeley, witnessed the fall of Japan's once powerful empire. As the USS Missouri approached the Japanese homeland, the Nicholas, leading destroyer of the screen, detected the approach of the vessel bringing emissaries to surrender Japan's fleet. The Nicholas closed the two-stacked Jap destroyer, and with all guns bearing on the target, lowered a whaleboat and removed eissaries, pilots, and interpreters for transfer to Admiral Halsey's flagship. Fifty miles from Tokyo, Bush witnessed the end of the greatest naval war of all time. He saw action in the Marshalls, New Guinea, Carolines, Molukkas, Philippines, Borneo, the Ryukyus, and ended his tour of duty with 56 days off the coast of Japan. Bush enlisted in May, 1943, received training at Sampson, N. Y., and reported on board the Nicholas in February, 1944.

Price Panel Will Assist

The local war price and rationing board has asked the Times-Mirror to publish for convenience of its readers the following self-explanatory communication:

Revised Maximum Price Regulation No. 165 requires that all types of services be filed at the Local War Price and Rationing Board. This regulation's purpose is to limit to the March 1942 level the prices of services which it covers.

Among the services covered in this regulation are: Rental or repair of bicycles; cleaning of buildings, houses or offices; repair, washing, etc., of carpets, rugs; fur storage and cleaning; repairing; janitorial contract services; rental and repair of radios; garbage disposal; shoe repair; automotive repair.

These and many others are covered by this regulation. If you offer any service to the public, please call the price panel of the war price and rationing board, and ask if you are required to file your ceiling prices. We will arrange to have you do so.

OF COURSE YOU LIKE TO BE GAY! EVERY DAY, ALL MONTH
Unless you have some underlying organic condition that requires consultation with your doctor there may be no need of your suffering from "monthly grumps." Thousands of girls and women have found blessed relief from periodic functional pains, cramps, headaches and nervousness in Chi-Ches-Ters Pills. Taken as directed, preferably two or three days before your time, they tend to relax the muscular contraction that often causes the distress. They contain no narcotics, nor habit-forming drugs. But Chi-Ches-Ters Pills do have an iron ingredient that helps to promote resiliency and energy. So, ask your druggist for Chi-Ches-Ters Pills, and accept no substitute. Caution: Use only as directed.

SOCIETY

Glimpse of China Provided in Paper For Blue Stockings

On Tuesday, Blue Stocking Club members were entertained at the home of Miss Kate Winger, with Mrs. Grace Tarbox as assisting hostess. Mrs. Robert Winger, president, conducted the business session and read an article from the Pennsylvania Clubwomen Magazine telling of the part taken by prominent clubwomen as consultants at the San Francisco Conference.

The program for the afternoon was given by Miss Mabel Abbott, her subject being "Home Life in China". The plan and type of home furnishings were first described as being the same for large and small houses. She then indicated that early marriage is not encouraged for girls, a small girl being raised in the home of her prospective husband, under the supervision of the boy's mother, and care for by a nurse who follows right through her life, and is second in importance to her mother-in-law. In the Chinese home, the speaker pointed out, the woman is called the "inside person" and is always important through her power in the home. Of recent years, contact with the west, speeded up by war, migration and insecurity, has changed details of the routine home life in that country. Miss Abbott brought out many interesting facts, showing that Chinese ways may be different but are never ridiculous.

Tea was served by the hostesses, Mrs. Leon Johnson and Mrs. H. C. Warren presiding at a pretty table centered with fall flowers and tapers.

The next meeting will be October 20 at the home of Mrs. Vance Weld, with Mrs. W. R. Carlin assisting.

Annual Missionary Meeting at Local Christian Alliance

The annual missionary convention will open this evening and continue through Sunday at the Christian and Missionary Alliance church, 705 Consensus Avenue. The worldwide work of the society will be presented by Mrs. H. F. Koenigswald, missionary to West China; Rev. Gustav Weimer, missionary to the Orient; and Rev. H. F. Meltzer, of Oakland, Calif.

At the opening service this evening Rev. Weimer will be the speaker. He has been a missionary for more than 20 years, serving in South China from 1923 to 1933 when he was transferred to the Makassar Bible School in the Netherlands East Indies. Two years later he and Mrs. Weimer went to Malaya to do pioneer work. They were there until 1942 when the Japs made their advance upon Singapore through Malaya.

Leaving most of their personal belongings behind, they moved into Singapore a few days ahead of the Japs, from which port they took what was perhaps the last ship to make escape from Singapore. After spending 67 days on the water they arrived in New Orleans in 1942.

During the convention Rev. Rev. Mr. Woerner will be telling many of his strange and varied experiences, also show pictures of the work. Thursday evening Mrs. Koenigswald and Rev. Meltzer will be the speakers. Services will begin promptly at 7:45.

To Be Home Soon

Cpl. Phyllis F. Ingalls, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Ingalls, 100 Orchard street, is a member of a contingent of Women's Army Corps veterans in the Southwest Pacific being returned to the United States under the demobilization plan. She has a total of 53 points, 17 more than the critical score of 41 required for members of the WAC. A veteran of a year of overseas service, Cpl. Ingalls has been an integral part of the headquarters staff of General George C. Kenney's Far East Air Forces in the Philippines. Her service in that theatre extended through the New Guinea and Philippine campaigns, for which she has been awarded three battle stars on the Asiatic-Pacific theatre ribbon, and the Philippines Liberation ribbon with one star.

Cpl. Ingalls had her basic training at Daytona Beach, Fla. then went to Camp Edwards, Mass., for nearly two years. While there she was awarded the Good Conduct Medal. Going to Fort Belvoir, Va., she was graduated last August after three months in engineering, drafting and photography, and has been with the engineers ever since. Arriving overseas, she was in Leyte for several months and more recently in Manila about six months. She has informed her family that she would leave Manila about October 2 would probably go to Fort Dix, N. J., and should arrive home in about a month. Graduate of Warren High School, she was employed at the New Process Company before enlisting in the Women's Army Auxiliary Corps, now the Women's Army Corps.

Weekend at Camp Sheffield Alumni For Kinzua Girls Married In South

Kinzua Girl Scouts spent a very enjoyable weekend at Camp Bird sail Edey, as the following report from Helen Quiggle and Shirley Bentley, scribes, would indicate:

We went Friday night and soon after we arrived, we had crackling fires burning. We slept very well and were up bright and early the next morning. Those who went were: Joyce Quiggle, Janet Quiggle, Marjorie Veley, Nancy Zerbe, Shirley Bentley, JoAnn Trego, Helen Quiggle, accompanied by Mrs. Miriam Schultz and our leader, Miss White.

Saturday we spent our time square dancing, hiking, working out of doors, and playing indoor games. Sunday we had our "Scouts' Own" around the breakfast table. We invited the parents to dinner on Sunday and those present included Mrs. Gifford Quiggle, Mary and Rose Quiggle, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Quiggle, and Mr. and Mrs. Richard Smith.

After enjoying a delicious dinner, dinner early Sunday evening, we very reluctantly left, hoping to visit the camp again next spring.

We wish to thank Mrs. Correll for her cooperation in helping to make our weekend pleasant. We also wish to thank Mrs. Schultz and Miss White. We trust that the weekend was as enjoyable and profitable for them as we are sure it was for us.

Warren Players Rehearse Fourth Drama For Radio

The Warren Players are in rehearsal for the fourth of the series of radio dramas which are being presented over WJTN each Sunday afternoon at two o'clock. Next Sunday's play is an exceptionally clever melodrama, "Two Crooks and a Lady," by Eugene O'Neill.

Mrs. Simms Vane, the crippled old lady who outwits the crooks, is played by Meredith Gray, who was cast in the role when the play was presented very effectively in the Warren Players' Studio Workshop a few years ago. The roles of the two crooks, Miller and Lucille, are played by Carl Johnson and Mary Schellhammer. Georgia Spinnery will be heard in the role of the companion and Giulio Fino and John Erickson as two police officers.

Sunday afternoon's production of "The Fifth Production," by Thornton Wilder, was very well received. In the cast were Louis Critelli, Gloria Valone, Rachel Mahaffy, and Catherine Africa.

The Players are enjoying their venture in radio dramas and intend to do some experimenting with sound effects and musical backgrounds which should add to the effectiveness of the productions. The response of interested players has been exceptional. But anyone is welcome at any audition.

The fifth production, scheduled for Oct. 25th, will be cast Friday evening at 8:30 in the Warren Radio News Office, 438 Pennsylvania avenue, west.

An effort is being made to select as wide a variety of players possible, with contrasting roles. All four plays which have been used have been in marked contrast. The Marriage Proposal, a farce by Anton Chekov, was the opening production. The Riders to the Sea, a tragedy, by J. M. Synge, the second; The Queens of France, a satirical comedy by Thornton Wilder, the third; and next Sunday a fast-moving melodrama, "Two Crooks and a Lady," will afford another contrast.

Trio of Elks Given Life Memberships

Three members of Warren Lodge No. 223, B. P. O. Elks, who have been affiliated with the lodge for forty years were presented life memberships at a well-attended meeting Tuesday evening in the lodge hall. Those who were honored were T. J. McNamara, of Titusville, W. J. Phillips and George L. Craft, of Warren.

The presentation was made during the regular lodge meeting by A. A. Albaugh, a past exalted ruler of the lodge, with appropriate remarks for each. Mr. Albaugh reviewed briefly the activities of the honored members in the lodge among other things recalling that Mr. McNamara was exalted ruler when the present commodious home was occupied.

Mr. McNamara carries number 223 on his membership card. He was proposed by the late M. K. Gleason March 21, 1905, elected in April of the same year and initiated April 18th. He was exalted ruler in 1913-14.

Mr. Phillips, was number 229. He was proposed by the late W. H. Gates April 14, 1905, elected April 15.

18 and initiated May 24 of the same year.

Mr. Craft, number 234, was proposed by the late Charles F. Schwing April 18, 1905, elected May 24 and initiated May 16th of the same year.

Preceding the meeting the three forty-year members were guests at a dinner sponsored by the Past Exalted Rulers' Association. Each spoke briefly upon receiving the life memberships during the lodge session, and during the talks much of the early history of the order in Warren was touched upon. Following the meeting a lunch was served by the house committee and social time enjoyed.

Among those in attendance from other lodges was James Gilliland, Oil City, and the following from Titusville who accompanied Mr. McNamara to Warren: F. J. Battles, George Litsinger, Paul Hepler, George Antill, Joe McAndrew and Carson Bennett.

Information On Withholding Taxes From Returned Vets

By JAMES MARLOW

Washington — (AP) — Here's a question which must be bothering returning veterans and their new bosses.

Suppose John Jones, released from the armed services, goes to work Monday—or any time between now and the end of the year.

Does his boss have to withhold taxes from his paycheck? Yes, if he's paid at a rate of income which would be taxable.

For example: An unmarried man without dependents would have tax taken out of his paycheck if he makes as much as $11 a week. Bosses have no choice about this. Under the law they must withhold a certain amount of tax out of every taxable paycheck.

This must be done even if it means that the government in 1946 must refund all the tax withheld from a person in 1945.

Here's an example: Under the law no one has to pay taxes if his 1945 income is under $500.

But here's Jones, an unmarried veteran without dependents. He takes a job Monday.

That job pays about $1,000 a year, or about $19.25 a week.

In the 11 weeks between Monday and Dec. 31 Jones will earn about $211. That will be his total income from civilian employment in 1945.

It might seem—since no one making under $500 in 1945 has to pay taxes—Jones should have no taxes withheld from total 1945 income of $211.

But it doesn't work that way. The government has supplied all employers with a tax table. They must regularly deduct from every employee's paycheck as much tax as the table calls for.

So the tax taken out of Jones' paycheck every week—that check is $19.25—will be about $1.80.

At the end of 11 weeks the boss will have taken out of Jones' weekly paycheck a total of about $19.80.

But Jones will get that money back. In 1946 he'll have to file a return with the government, showing he should not have been taxed at all. The government will give him back in 1946 the money taken from him in 1945.

The reason, as noted, is this: Because Jones made less than $500 in 1945 he shouldn't have been taxed. This may all seem like a lot of extra work for the government. And it is. But internal revenue people—who collect the taxes—figure this way:

It's simpler to collect a tax regularly from paychecks according to the tax table—and then make a refund—than to lay down special rules and regulations to fit the different cases which bob up.

IRVINE

Irvine, Oct. 16—Mrs. Adams, nurse at the shop has moved from the Hulings rooms to Warren. She could not find a place here suitable and the Hulings family needed their rooms, sorry to have her leave here.

Mrs. Minnie Murray and daughter Marion Robertson expects soon to go to Warren for the winter. Mrs. Robertson is school nurse and during the winter it is not so pleasant to drive to and from here if we have a winter like last was.

Mrs. Gertrude Dailey returned home from the Warren Hospital Saturday where she underwent an operation. She is doing fine. We see in the hospital news this evening it stated she was from Tiona, but not.

Ross Walters and a party of friends returned Sunday morning from a hunting trip in the west. They came home with a good supply of pheasants and report a very enjoyable time.

Mrs. Clinton Johnson had a very enjoyable surprise some time ago when her brother Howard Murtough came for a visit with her and his sister Genevieve of Jamestown. They had not seen him in several years.

Merle Hulings is home after several years in the army, he has an honorable discharge.

Mendie Lawson is home for some time and Chester Westfall is home on an extended furlough.

Bobby Wilson will soon be home he called home Sunday evening from Indiantown Gap, he has not been home for some time.

Johnny Randanilla is home after undergoing an operation at the Warren hospital.

Mrs. Bertha Walters is home after a two weeks visit with her son Raymond and family at Oil City.

A very enjoyable gathering was enjoyed at the parlors of the Methodist church Thursday, Oct.

11 as a welcome for the new minister, Rev. Chitester and wife.

Mrs. Carbon who has been the assistant postmaster for some time has resigned her position on account of ill health, her place will be filled by Miss Francis Pettio.

The child still lives somewhere in Europe

IT MIGHT have been Rotterdam. It might have been Coventry. It might have been Greece...

The shriek and roar of a bomb... and that was all. It happened to thousands of mothers. They're gone. Their homes are gone. Rubble!

Who took care of the babies? Who gave them something to eat? Who found them a place to sleep? Who cared for them and comforted them? Who taught them to talk and walk?

YOU did!

You did all that and more... when you gave so generously to your Community War Fund. Your donation kept alive many a little tot in war-torn lands across the seas. Your donation helped war-separated families here at home, too... gave maternity aid... forestalled juvenile delinquency.

Surely, you're not going to stop helping now... when the need is greater than ever before! (500,000 destitute war orphans are now wandering in Yugoslavia alone.) You'll give again... won't you?

Some of your gifts will go to the U.S.O. to bring relaxation to a lonely soldier, perhaps your own. It will bring smiles to wounded veterans in hospitals, and aid war-stranded merchant seamen.

You are being asked to give again because those who can't help themselves need your help—badly. Give to your Community War Fund... make your gift as big as your heart.

Discharge Scores Cut In the Navy

Washington, Oct. 17-(P)-The navy has knocked down discharge scores for most of its personnel, with a goal of releasing more than 1,100,000 officers and men by New Year's. Previously the service had expected to send home only about 830,000 by Christmas.

Announcing cuts effective November 1 for all but a few classifications, the navy also promised further reductions in point scores in December and January.

For most enlisted men the point score total was cut from 44 to 41. Further reductions to 39 on December 1 and to 38 on January 1 were promised.

Auto Registration In State Climbing

Harrisburg, Oct. 17-(P)-Passenger motor vehicle registrations jumped 43 per cent in September over the like period of 1944, the revenue department reported today.

The report at the same time listed revenues of the Bureau of Motor Vehicles from registrations and other fees from April 1 to Sept. 30 at $31,541,074 against $50,676,347 in the corresponding period of 1944.

The gain in revenues in September-the first full month after lifting of gas rationing-from all sources, however, was 40.5 per cent with receipts totalling $416,190 against $296,304 in September, 1944.

In that month, registrations of commercial motor vehicles were 3,450, a 46.6 per cent gain over a year ago.

Atom Poses Grave Menace to Nation

Washington, Oct. 17-(P)-Overnight slaughter of 40,000,000 American citizens and "virtual destruction of this country" were described by atom bomb makers today as possibilities of the terrible new weapon.

Both were seen as conceivable should war break out again in a distrustful family of nations.

The scientists, Dr. J. R. Oppenheimer of the New Mexico laboratories of the bomb-making project and Dr. H. J. Curtis of the Oak Ridge, Tenn., plants, testified at senate committee hearings.

Oppenheimer was asked by Senator Fulbright (D-Ark) whether it was a fair statement to say that 40,000,000 Americans in congested centers could be destroyed in one atomic raid.

"I'm afraid it is," Oppenheimer replied.

Curtis said the problems generated by discovery of the atom bomb were so great over the world that "one false move in international diplomacy might mean the virtual destruction of this country."

TREASURY BALANCE

Washington, Oct. 17-(P)-The position of the treasury Oct. 15: Receipts $92,365,870.38; expenditures $200,125,678.65; balance $14,204,752,361.31; total debt $262,185,484,291.02; decrease over previous day $60,484,864.95.

RECORD MUSKIE

Connecticut Lake, Oct. 17-(P)-A 53-inch muskunge weighing 48 pounds-the one caught by Merle Klingensmith-sounds like a big one but it's the third largest caught in Connecticut Lake. Biggest, a 57-pounder, was hauled out by Lewis Walker.

WHO FOUND A WALLET?

In the classified column today appears an advertisement inserted by a member of the U. S. Navy who is home on leave at the present time and had the misfortune to lose a black wallet containing a large sum of money as well as official cards and papers containing the name of the loser. It is hoped that the wallet was picked up by some patriotic person who will appreciate the importance of returning it to the owner, or the Times-Mirror. Don't let the sailor boy down!

A team under Maj. William Browne, former chief of detectives in Portland, Ore., accomplished the job of unearthing the records which give the first official figures on the number of Nazi party members.

The Nazis had ordered the records burned, but the orders for some reason never were carried out.

Although the membership figures approached 8,000,000, American authorities estimated that because of deaths, expulsions and resignations the Nazi party at its peak probably never had more than 7,000,000 active members.

New Officers Are In Charge For Boosters

Warren School Music Boosters Club got its fall season under way with the first meeting in Beatty school auditorium last evening, a new slate of officers taking over and a different type of program presented by the entertainment committee.

Students were invited to attend the meeting for the first time and turned out in good numbers to enjoy the program of sound movies planned by Harry Summers and shown by Archie Hunter. These pictures, several of which were prepared as part of the school visual education program, were a departure in program type and were much enjoyed by students and adults.

Basil White, retiring president, opened the meeting with reports by the secretary-treasurer, Mrs. W. C. Fuellhart, who read the statement of the auditors, W. E. Yeager and H. L. Blair.

Creed A. Erickson, newly elected head of the club and chairman of the annual tag day conducted this past summer, reported a net of $1,080.95 from this project.

Mr. White expressed his thanks to his officers and committee heads who had cooperated so well with him during his term of office. New officers taking over were Mr. Erickson, president; Richard G. Smith, vice president; Mrs. Leonard Swanson, secretary-treasurer, with Mr. White and Mrs. Fuellhart added to the board of directors for three-year terms. Other directors are Mrs. Lester Blair, F. E. Kieshauser, Harry Thurn, W. P. Taylor, Mr. Erickson announced appointment of Harry Summers as program chairman for the new year and Mrs. Freeman O. Peterson as social chairman.

The meeting night was found to conflict with PTA activities and it was voted to hold future sessions on the first Tuesday of each month.

In announcing his program, Mr. Summers expressed his appreciation to the club members who transported bandmen to the Warren-Jamestown game last Friday, also to the New Process Company for its trucking of instruments to the game. He also expressed his own and the musical groups' gratitude to the club for "nice things done for us in the past year."

Freight Wreck Costly; Many Cars Off Track

One of the most destructive freight wrecks that has taken place near Warren in many months took place this morning at 7:10 near the old Pittsfield railroad station. Nineteen cars of an east bound ore train were derailed and piled high in the air in a jumbled heap, cars being strewn along over some distance.

A large amount of the railroad roadbed was torn up and many telephone poles carrying the wires of the railroad were sheared off and wire signals were interrupted. Wrecking crews from Warren and Erie were dispatched to the scene and it is expected to be many hours before the lines are open due to the large amount of track damaged.

The wreck took place about the time train 581 was arriving in this city from the east and it was derailed by way of Oil City and Corry into Erie. The east bound train was also derailed from Corry to Oil City and thence into Warren and it was late in arriving in this city.

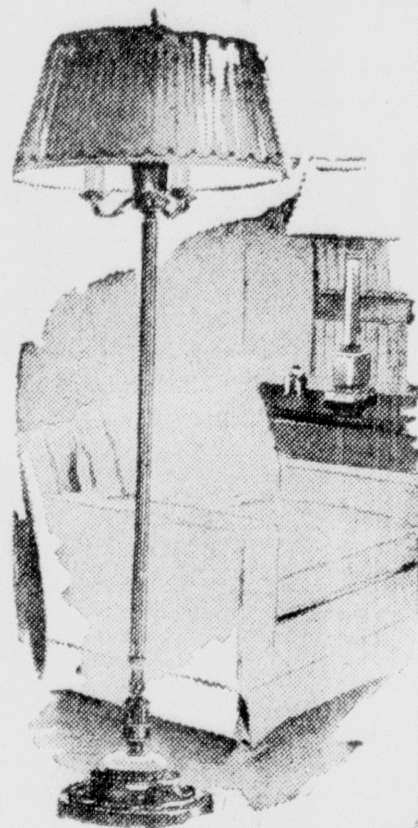

An engine on the evening passenger train westbound from Ridgway was derailed just east of Warren last Saturday night and traffic was tied up about four hours before the engine was placed on the tracks and the train got under way.

Mastitis Increases In Autumn Season

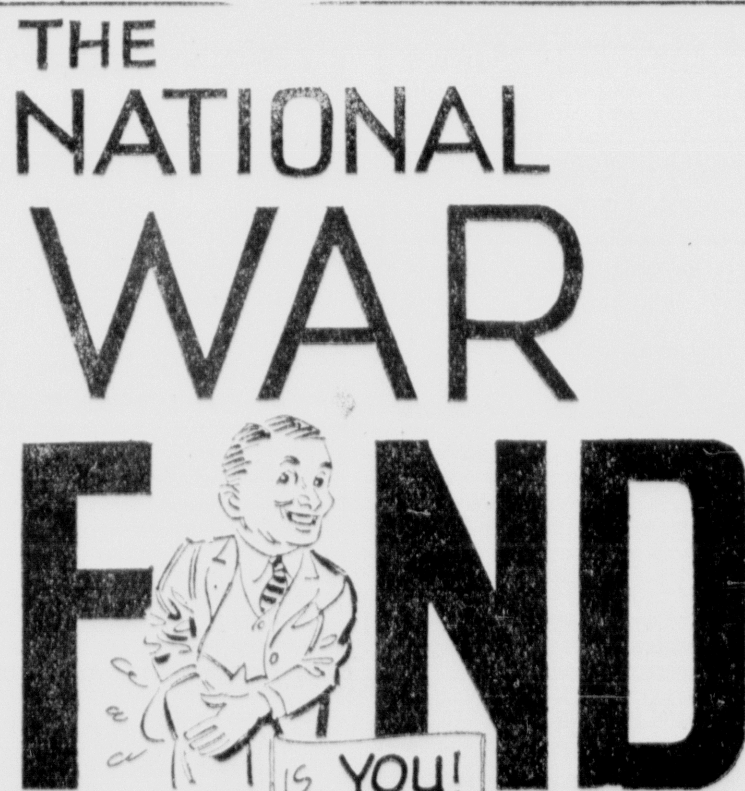

Twice as many cases of mastitis are recorded in late autumn as during either summer or winter, reports County Agent O. C. Tritt. This increase is attributed to greater amounts of chilling suffered by the cows.

When cows become chilled, their ability to fight off any germs that may be present is lowered. This lowers the resistance of the udders of all cows in milk contain is particularly true of mastitis strains of the bacteria associated with mastitis, but these germs are restrained by natural resistance of the cows. But when this resistance is lowered, as by chilling, mastitis often results.

Prevalence of mastitis during this season can be attributed to chilling resulting when cows are left in the pasture on cold, rainy days, turned into cornstalk fields in cold weather, forced to sleep on cold ground when they should be in well-bedded stalls, and turned out into the fields when weather is too cold for their comfort.

When cows are brought into the stable, care should be taken to keep them well bedded so that their udders will not lie on a cold concrete floor. Doors and windows should be kept closed on windy days and nights.

This would be a good time to plan installing a ventilation system that will keep the stable at uniform temperature and yet provide adequate ventilation at all times of the year.
